NURSES GRADUATE

Newton Hospital Training School Holds Graduation Exercises on Thursday

Thursday was the culmination of the week at the Newton Hospital Training School for nurses. On Thursday afternoon thirty young women were awarded their graduation diplomas and the Class of 1925 became a reality. The exercises were held at 10 o'clock. The invocation was delivered by the Rev. Arthur M. Ellis, D.D., and then, after a selection by the orchestra, the address to the graduating class was delivered by Miss Katherine Hardwick, assistant director of the Simmons College School of Social Work. After her address the diplomas were presented by Mr. Charles Kelsey, the president of the board of trustees, the badges were given by Miss Bertha W. Allen, R.N., the superintendent of the training school, and the scholarships presented by the Women's Hospital Aid, were awarded by Miss Mary M. Riddle, R.N., the first year scholarship of $50 to Miss Margaret Malcom, the second year scholarship of $75 to Miss Helen B. Stone and the third year one of $125 to Miss Isobel Brown. At the conclusion of the exercises the audience was dismissed with a benediction. The members of the graduating class were: Lillian Elizabeth Anderson, Lillian Alberta Tweeddale, Marion Smith, Mary Louise Morton, Esther Hale Story, Helen Lee Bond, Kathryn Prior, Thelma Charlotte Caidon, Lydia Sophia Mackey, Helen Mary Hebert, Olive Elizabeth Specht, Alice Anastasia Forn, Flora Kirby Dewar, Virginia Lucy Rocco, Zita Margaret Joyal, Margaret Mary Burchill, Winifred Lillian Perkins, Ella Verena Bistor, Laura Lorinda Buell, Leda Torsyle DeBevoise, Margaret Constance Lawton, Harriett Prescott Collins, Viola Gerude Allen, Gladys Irene Handy, Vera Gould Goreham, Bertha Lillian Mutch, Lila Hazel Johnson, Annie Isobel Brown, Marian Rae Sansom, Naomi Lydia Kangas.

Wednesday evening in the Nurses' home the pupil nurses gave a farewell entertainment and dance to the seniors and their friends. The rooms were gay with pink blossoms and pink lanterns and the company was a pleasant one. The seniors, friends, doctors and members of the board of trustees so numerous that a very large number had to be satisfied with hearing the entertainment as well as they could in the outside corridors instead of seeing it. There were two short sketches "The Bachelor's Dream" and "Spanish Love," followed by a "Hospital Orchestra."

In the first sketch the bachelor falls asleep while reading his evening paper and dreams of all the girls he has admired during his life. As he dreamed of them they appeared before him; the school chum, the tennis girl, the

ROTARY CLUB

The weekly meeting of the Newton Rotary Club, at the Newton Golf Club on Monday noon, was given over to the consideration of miscellaneous business, the usual talk by a visiting speaker being omitted. Chief among the matters considered were the appointment of delegates to the Rotary International Convention at Cleveland, June 15 to 19; the completion of arrangements for the dinner to be tendered "Ben" Rae's winning team in the attendance contest, recently closed, and the further development of the plans for the coming outing of the local Rotarians at Camp Mashpee, on Mashpee Island, June 27 and 28.

President Ira S. Roe and former President William T. Halliday were elected to represent the local club at the Cleveland convention. Dr. Cecil Clark, captain of the losers in the attendance contest, and his fellow members of Team No. 1, will banquet the victors at the Norumbega Park restaurant on next Monday evening, June 8. Wives and lady friends of the members of both teams will be entertained at the expense of the individual hosts, and the evening will be spent enjoying the attractions and amusements offered there.

Plans are also shaping up rapidly for the coming outing and, with "Joe" Crowell in charge of the whole show, its success is already assured. The number who will take it is now growing rapidly, and it is now evident that no member of the local club intends to miss the event if he can possibly avoid it, and considerably more than half of the members have already made reservations.

The balance of the meeting was given over to a general discussion of the program for the coming year, the financial budget for the same period, the development of the work of various committees, and the consideration of new activities in which the club might properly take an interest.

YOUTH FOR PEACE

"A warless world in this generation" was the theme of three representatives of the Fellowship of Youth for Peace, speaking in Lincoln Hall, Newton Highlands, on Thursday evening, May 28.

Dr. Samuel H. Woodrow, of the Congregational Church, opened the meeting with prayer, and Rev. Charles O. Farrar, of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, introduced the speakers, calling on the audience, of approximately 200, for a fair and unprejudiced hearing for this new Youth Movement for Peace.

Thomas Q. Harrison, national secretary of the Fellowship of Youth for Peace, spoke as an ex-soldier, who, having experienced the futility and the horrors of modern warfare, is straining every nerve toward the removal of the war menace from the world. He spoke not only for himself but for thousands of youths in America, in Europe, and in Asia, who are determined that there shall be no more war.

The religious basis of the call to peace was stressed by Herbert Haslam, a student at the Newton Theological Institution, who showed how Jesus preached and practiced, not a passive submission to evil, but a positive goodwill.

The third speaker, Robindra C. Nag, is a young Hindu student of philosophy and psychology. His was the idealist's standpoint. America is splendid in externals—it must rise to an equally splendid moral leadership toward peace.

Although it was ten o'clock when the speakers finished, the audience stayed, almost to a unit, for three quarters of an hour longer, while Mr. Harrison answered with unflinching amiability question after question as to the aims and policies of the Fellowship of Youth for Peace, whose Boston office is at 16 Carver street. To many a person who went with hopes dulled by long experience of a disappointing world, came the lift and surge of young enthusiasm and consecration, with a new thrill. Peace impossible? Surely not, in face of this.

"Sublime audacity called faith, whereby 'Impossible' becomes an outworn lie."

NEWTONVILLE IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION

The Annual Meeting of the Newtonville Improvement Association will be held on Friday, June 5th, 8 P. M., in the parish house of the St. John's Episcopal Church, Lowell avenue, and Otis street.

After the business meeting at which the activities of the Association for the past year will be reviewed, and officers for the coming year will be elected, an interesting address will be given by General Alfred F. Foote, Commissioner of Public Safety for Massachusetts, on the work of his department.

MEMORIAL DAY EXERCISES

Charles Ward Post, 62, G. A. R., observed Memorial Day last Saturday with its usual impressive exercises. The various cemeteries in the city and surrounding towns were visited by details from the post and other military organizations in the morning and the graves of deceased veterans appropriately decorated.

The usual services were held at St. Mary's Cemetery, Newton Lower Falls, in charge of Senior Vice Commander Thomas W. Shapleigh and were followed by the casting of flowers in the Charles River in memory of the sailor dead.

The post and the details which had charge of the decorating of the graves were the guests of the Newton Lodge of Elks for luncheon which was served in Elks Hall in Newton.

The formal parade was formed immediately after luncheon under the direction of Chief Marshal Mayor Edwin O. Childs, assisted by Captain Thomas Francy as adjutant general and Wilfred A. Wetherbee as chief of staff.

The procession marched over Centre street to Homer. Over Homer street to Walnut and thence to the Cemetery where exercises were held at the Soldiers' monument. After the general orders of the day were read prayer was offered by George M. Fliske, chaplain of the Post, and Lincoln's Gettysburg speech was read by Wilfred Wetherbee. The usual rifle salute closed the ceremony.

The procession then marched through Newtonville passing the Governor John A. Andrew Home, to the State Armory being reviewed by Mayor Childs at the Hose house on Washington street.

The usual banquet at the State Armory brought the exercises of Memorial Day to a close. Charles Ward Post 62 G. A. R. with its guests numbering about 500 participated.

The guests were members of the city government, Co. C, 101st Infantry, commanded by Captain Thomas Hickey, J. Wiley Edmonds Camp 31, Sons of Veterans, Edward A. Cauldwell commanding.

The guests were members of the city government, Co. C, 101st Infantry, Spanish War Veterans, American Legion Post 48, Sons and Daughters of Veterans, Newton Constabulary Band, Knights of the Holy Cross of St. Bernard's Church Drum Corps, Newton Boy Scouts and a detachment of cavalry from the Commonwealth Armory. Addresses were made by Mayor Edwin O. Childs, Representative Arthur W. Hollis, Thomas White, President of the Board of Aldermen, and heads of the military organizations present. These were a fitting conclusion to a perfect day.

BOARD OF ALDERMEN

Turn Down Appointment of Miss Florence F. Fitzgerald As Overseer of the Poor.

The aldermen transacted a large amount of routine business at the regular meeting on Monday. In spite of a long docket adjournment was at 9.25. Aldermen Bliss, Crosby, Earle, and Weeks were absent.

The chief matter of importance was the refusal of the board to confirm the appointment, by the Mayor, of Miss Florence F. Fitzgerald as Overseer of the Poor, by a vote of 9 to 8. This office has been vacant since last December when the resignation of Mr. Oswald McCourt was accepted. Since that time the board refused to change the city ordinance to permit Dr. Fred M. Lowe to be appointed to that office. There was no discussion on the appointment of Miss Fitzgerald and a ballot vote was taken with the above result.

A long list of hearings on private garages, pole locations, and takings of land for sewers was run through in rapid order. Thirty-six private garages, and several pole locations, were granted.

Messrs. D. J. Flanagan, John J. Sheehan, and Garfield Appleyard led the opposition on a petition for a sewer on White avenue, Newton Centre, because the sewer would be paid for by them with no benefit to them. Mr. and Mrs. James E. Welch and others complained of the unsatisfactory and unsanitary cesspools which they were forced to put up with at present.

Considerable interest was manifested by residents of Turner street, Newtonville, on a petition for the construction of sidewalks there. Complaint was made that the present gravel sidewalk was sufficient, that it was an unnecessary expenditure by the city, and that the cost and burden of caring for a new sidewalk was more than the abutters wanted to assume.

The board voted to approve the action of the incorporators of the Plummer Memorial Library, Auburndale, on becoming incorporated.

Mr. D. L. Fletcher was granted a permit for a gasoline pump at 1-3 Brook street, Newton, with certain restrictions. This permit was recommended to the Franchise and License committee at the last meeting when the committee reported favorably upon it.

It was voted to hold the next meeting of the board on June 22nd so as to give the city clerk opportunity to properly notify persons affected upon contemplated changes in zoning.

At the motion of Alderman Madden a hearing was assigned for June 22nd upon the matter of zoning schoolhouse lots, parks, and other lands unzoned. These lands will be placed in the same zone as surrounding property in order that if the city should sell any part that the abutters will be protected.

The Public Works committee reported that no action was necessary upon the widening of Washington St.

WEST NEWTON'S MEMORIAL LIBRARY

About a year ago an appeal was addressed to the citizens of West Newton for funds to purchase land at the corner of Chestnut and Davis streets upon which to erect a Memorial Library.

The site and buildings thereon have been purchased, paid for, and all mortgages existing at the time of purchase, discharged.

In cash and pledges about $40,000 has been received—a remarkable tribute to the generosity and public spirit of the citizens of West Newton.

Plans are now being made to provide a suitably finished, well lighted and heated basement room in the new building for Social Service Work not directly associated with the Library—a room which will be used for the fine work of the Neighborhood House soon to be transferred in part to the Davis School.

These plans have been prepared and estimates obtained. The cost of the new building, heating, plumbing, fixtures and exterior grading will be about $42,000. The land (and old buildings thereon) cost $17,500. About $20,000 is now needed. Let everyone help in this most worthy cause.

The Committee in charge: Mrs. Elly Peabody, Mrs. Arthur G. Hosmer, Mrs. Herbert E. Cushman, Mrs. Fred S. Sawyer, Mrs. A. Shirley Ladd, Mrs. F. J. Fessenden, Mrs. Louis Bell, Mrs. Joseph N. Lovell, Miss Lucy E. Allen, Miss Louise W. Lovett, and Advisory Committee of Men's Club: Norman W. Bingham, Jr., Herbert M. Cole, Frederick J. Fessenden, C. E. Gibson, Charles E. Hatfield, Charles E. Lauriat, John A. Potter, Fred S. Pratt, Thomas Weston.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

Written by
Leverett D. G. Bentley

O, do the city fathers know,
(Or can it be they do not care?)
There still are those who trolleys use
And thus must pay a ten-cent fare.
It's tough, indeed, when one is poor,
To walk, of course, is tougher far,
And worse to be dependent on A Middlesex & Boston car.
Nor do we seek to blame the road,
Of troubles it sure has a store,
The autos, which have caused it all,
Aren't falling off "getting more";
O, city fathers, why delay
There's nothing in this long suspense,
Instead of solving anything.
You're merely piling up expense:
This cautious stuff of penny-wise
Sounds good when used in a campaign,
But if you do not money spend,
You surely can't expect to gain;
"Let's go" and give the M & B
The backing of the city's purse,
A decent system let us have Before the road gets any worse;
In short, cut out explaining and Pass up all further talk and fuss,
Let every trolley have a rest
And in its place install a bus.

One of the arguments against the so-called "drunken driver" law put forth while it was before the Legislature last April was that judges would hesitate to render a verdict of guilty
if it was the defendant's second offense.
Legislators and others who made this contention said that a law which compelled a judge to send a man to jail for a second offense was likely to be evaded. "A judge will hesitate to send a prominent member of the community to prison," said those who were opposing the passage of the "drunken driver"
act. We do not believe that Massachusetts judges are that kind of men.
The average judge is a conscientious man, otherwise he would not accept his position. On the other hand a man guilty of driving while under the influence of liquor is usually the type of individual who will stop at nothing to save his own skin. It isn't the judge upon whom the entire pressure is brought to prevent the imposition of a jail sentence in the case of a drunken driver. It is the policeman who made the arrest who must be pulled and hauled by friends of the prisoner. Efforts are made to get him to "play off." These may be made through his superiors or through some friends of his. It seems a matter of general knowledge that once a complaint is made in court it must be taken up. It cannot be lost in the shuffle deliberately without exciting suspicion and causing trouble for the daring individual who attempts such a thing. It is amazing what a keen insight into the provisions of the automobile statutes has been obtained by drivers within the last few years.

The fact that it is necessary to "get to" the arresting officer before he swears out a complaint against a driver
well understood as the prevailing market price of Chelsea-made Scotch whisky. We think we can understand the feelings of a mere patrolman when a lot of prominent men get him in the corner and seek to persuade him to "drop these charges." In our opinion
it is contemptible for them to do so.
The policeman has made the arrest believing it to be his duty and should be upheld. A superior officer, who has any part in trying to intimidate a subordinate should be removed without delay. An officer of the court, however exalted his position, who permits
himself to engage in such a practice should be impeached. Happily, the policeman who must meet the pressure of influential citizens and fight his battle alone has still one thing left to do if the case is not presented. He can report to the State Registrar of Motor Vehicles that the case has been "fixed,"
and then the fur will fly. It may be that he will hesitate to do so for fear of losing his job or incurring the enmity of his superiors. In that event justice is thwarted. We repeat, the problem of "drunken driving" is still a serious one.

Enforcement of the automobile laws
is in our opinion becoming more and more one of the most vital things confronting a city or town. There was one time when one entered a rural town
on a Sunday afternoon only to find the place deserted. If one had any reason to find the only policeman one had to hunt for that official. Often he would be found sitting outside the fire station, fiddling in a chair, enjoying a pipe or a cigar. There was a time when life was one grand long loaf for the "chief of police" in most every little burg. Sunday afternoon in particular was an occasion for complete rest, with nothing to disturb his happiness. Now you will find this same individual standing in the village square waving his arms in an effort to direct traffic. Sunday has become the very busiest of the week. In that day
he does more than during the other six days combined. He earns his money. Now with such an amount of extra work thrust upon him there is little doubt but what his authority and the feeling of his importance grows in proportion. He can "hawl out" an automobilist and if the latter makes a reply that offends him—bing!
the offending driver is haled into court and there is no end of trouble before things are settled. The same thing is true of the traffic cop who is a king in his own right. Here again is a vexing situation. The policeman has the automobilist on the hip, so to speak. How is it possible to arrive at justice if the policeman is not as fair and reasonable as he should be? One cannot answer that because policemen,
like automobilists, are human beings
and the human element increases the density of every problem. More traffic policemen would be a solution in part,
we believe. By that we mean, do not demand too much of a single traffic
cop. Do not keep him standing in one spot for too long a time until his nerves get ragged. A second solution would be a careful observation of traffic rules. Each city and town has a lot of weird traffic rules. None is more weird than our very home town
which has a combination of "don'ts"
that is almost ridiculous. Now then,
as long as each community is known to be loaded down with traffic regulations let the driver bear this in mind
as he approaches a square. By keeping his eyes open and paying attention he will save himself no end of trouble.

Mayor and the Board of Aldermen or department heads. Not only would there be a better understanding but a better feeling all around. In our opinion the city is in the midst of a school-construction spree. Everything is subordinated to the needs of education and other city branches are trimmed and pruned until it almost seems they might not survive. Let's hear from every city department either through annual recommendations to the Board of Aldermen similar to these State departments are obliged every January to make to the Legislature, or in annual reports. At any rate let's hear more of the future and less of the past.

It gave us considerable pleasure not long ago to receive word from a subscriber to the GRAPHIC who lives in a distant city that this weekly column
was read with interest "way out there." We have no intention of printing the letter or repeating what was said in it, but there was a phrase that stuck in our mind. "We depend on you to tell us how things are getting on in our old home" they graciously wrote. Now then we are just going to take up those GRAPHIC readers by briefly recounting some things we saw the other day. It was our privilege to accompany on a tour of the city a man who has been our friend since our knee-pants days. No one knows the city better than he and consequently the trip was both delightful and informing. What will interest our friends who have homes in other cities
is the immense building development everywhere. We know they would sit up and take notice if they were to see how much vacant land has been opened-up in a comparatively short time. Waban would be a revelation, both in its center and its outer edges.
Newton Centre, the Commonwealth avenue boulevard, both east and west of Walnut street, Auburndale, Lower Falls and West Newton. Places that there were fields are now dotted with attractive homes. As far as we were able to observe the new houses are of a desirable type. At least they so impressed us at a casual glance. Newton may say to our friends who formerly lived here that there are some people who say Newton is growing too fast. Just how one is going to determine that we cannot say. At any rate
there have been marvelous changes that would make the eyes of former Newtonians stick out in amazement.

EDITORIAL

We highly commend the action of the aldermen in their refusal to appoint a woman to the position as Overseer of the Poor. The office is one that requires a good knowledge of the law, a great knowledge of human nature, and one in which sympathy should be subordinated to sound common sense. Such a combination is rarely found even in a man of wide experience. We believe that a mistake was made in not appointing Dr. Lowe to that office.

No action is necessary on the widening of Washington street at Nonantum Square. Such an action at best would be a temporary relief from the present congested traffic at this point. The one and only solution to the problem to our minds is to remove the street cars entirely from the square.

SOMES-SMITH

—Miss Eleanor Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Irving Smith of Weston, was married on Wednesday to Stanley Edson Somes of Newton Highlands. The ceremony took place in the Old South Church, Boston, and was performed by the Rev. George A. Gordon.

Miss Ruth Litchfield of Newton was the maid of honor, Mrs. Clarence Walker of Lexington, the matron of honor, and Mrs. Richard H. Blaisdell of Newton, and Mrs. William O. Hunt of Newton, the bridesmaids.

The best man was Mr. Ballard E. Ebbett of Allston, and the ushers, Mr. William O. Hunt and Mr. Richard H. Blaisdell of Newton, Mr. Clarence S. Walker of Lexington, and Mr. Percival H. Foster of Brookline.

The gown of the bride was of white embroidered tulle, and her tulle veil was crowned by a coronet of pearls.

The maid of honor wore a gown of white chiffon and carried sweet peas or the same shade, and the matron of honor wore a gown of white and carried pink snap dragons.

The bridesmaids wore yellow and blue crepe Roman gowns and carried snap dragons.

A reception at Hotel Victoria followed the ceremony at the church. The latter was decorated with palms and baskets of peonies for the occasion.

After a wedding trip to Maine, Mr. and Mrs. Somes will live in Weston. The bride is a graduate of the Misses Allen's School.

BOY SCOUTS

Over one hundred and fifty scouts and officers marched in the Memorial Day parade, forming on Richardson street, Newton, at 115 P. M. The Bugle and Corp from Troop 4 of Newton Highlands, did excellent work and were going strong even on the last leg of the march from the reviewing stand back to Newtonville. After the parade the Division was served ice cream and cake at the High School Gym as a treat from the Council. The Division was in charge of Mr. Marshall I. Stone, Deputy Commissioner, assisted by Messrs. Richard Brown and J. M. Woodbridge, Assistant Deputy Commissioners. Mr. Charles H. Woodworth, ADC, took charge of the serving of the refreshments at the Gym.

Saturday morning the Scouts decorated fourteen graves of former scouts and officers in Newton Cemetery and one in Natick. A small temporary marker was used to identify the grave as that of a Scout and a delegation from each of such locations as had lost scouts met the Executive and ADC Brown at the cemetery at ten o'clock with flowers gathered from gardens and homes, including some potted plants. It is hoped that next year a more complete list of names will be available and persons having any information in regard to the burial place of former scouts are urged to send it to the Headquarters office. This is the first year that Scouts have, as a group, taken care of the decoration of the graves of their comrades.

Everyone interested in Scouting should be keeping in mind the Annual Spring Rally which will be held at Clifton Field Saturday, June 13th at 3:30 P. M. Troops to form on the Field at 2:30 for inspection. In case of rain the Rally will not be postponed but such events as can be run

Memorial Exercises at High School

Rev. Ralph H. Davis of the Newton Centre Methodist Church, and E. H. Startar, a Civil War veteran and patriotic inspector of the Grand Army of the City of Newton, spoke to the freshmen class at the Memorial Day exercises held last Friday in the assembly hall.

"The men who have died for this country would never have given their lives with the hope that their descendants would erect monuments to their memory. They believed that we today would carry on," emphasized Mr. Davis in his talk to the freshmen class.

Mr. Startar spoke on Newton's loyalty in the Revolutionary and Civil Wars, implying some of the same things as Mr. Davis.

A substantial number of the party took advantage of the opportunity to enjoy performance at the Norumbega theatre, while still others enjoyed the various open air attractions at this popular resort.

At the noon meeting, President, Ira Roe, presided. The speaker announced for this meeting was unable to be present and "Dick" Dwyer was responsible for a substitute attraction which met all requirements. The June meeting of the Newton Athletic Association was held Monday evening, at the Newton Club. President, Rupert C. Thompson presided. The following chairmen of committees were elected: Clark Macomber, Football; Clarence V. Moore, Track; Walter Barrett, Basketball; O. W. Forte, Golf; George W. Morris, Swimming; Arthur LeBarron, Sports; George Owen, Sr., Social; Seth Wood, Membership; and Warren K. Brimblecom, Publicity.

"Heinie" Dunker, Harvard athlete and first marshal of the class of 1925, spoke upon athletics of today and the problem connected with it. "Commercialism," he said, "is a necessary evil attendant with the large crowds which now attend games." The Big Three in the East and the Big Ten Conference in the West, by not allowing athletes who transfer from one college to another to compete until after one year of attendance at the latter and by not permitting fall practice to begin but a short while before the opening of college are successfully combating this evil. The problem of the relation of the athlete to scholarship is also being met successfully. The standards of the colleges are continually being raised to keep the number of students from overcrowding the colleges.

Fred W. Woodcock, Brown, '91, told the members of the association of athletics in his day, of accommodations and conditions with which they had to put up. In closing Mr. Woodcock paid a tribute to Coach Allie Dickinson and his system which was far and beyond his own that he used as coach. In closing the meeting, President Thompson, urged the members to make known to the people of Newton, the aim of the organization—the enlargement of the present athletic field at the High School.

THIS BANK HAS A PLAN TO FIT EVERY PURPOSE

1. Regular Monthly Savings starting with $1 to $40.

This is the most familiar of the co-operative bank plans. Deposits are made by the purchase of shares, each share costing one dollar per month and increasing in value with the additions of principal and interest until in twelve years or less it matures and the sum of $200 per share is due to the shareholder. You pay in about 141 dollars—54% does the rest.

2. Regular Monthly Savings starting with a Lump Sum.

Here the depositor invests a sum of money in partly matured shares of an earlier series and continues to pay as many dollars per month as the number of shares purchased. In this way a high rate of interest is earned on one's original capital and this is increased by monthly additions of principal and interest.

3. Automatic Accumulation from a Given Capital.

The investor buys one or more Paid Up Shares at $200 each, and directs the dividends from these shares to be applied to the purchase of shares under the monthly payment plan (Plan 1, above). A fund nearly doubles itself in twelve years by this arrangement.

4. Investment of a Fund for Income Purposes.

The individual or society buys Paid Up or Matured Shares at $200 each, from which dividends are paid in March, June, September, and December. The invariable rate has been 5 per cent. per annum, or 1/4 per cent. each quarter.

Start under one of these plans—let us help you decide which—Call or write. Your problem may be solved here.

F. A. Day Jr. High School

This week we have been having an exhibition of the pupils' handwork open to the public. The assembly hall has been appropriately adapted to such an unusual display. On the stage have been arranged tables with first aid articles, necessary bathing suggestions for the baby with the baby doll used in demonstrations. Posters made by the girls who are there to explain them complete the Hygiene Club's contribution.

Just in front of the stage the cooking classes have arranged a very appetizing display including a good breakfast for warm mornings, one for winter days, two luncheons or suppers for warm weather, a model dinner for company on a hot day, a convalescent tray, a liquid diet lunch and well-balanced lunches to be carried or bought at school. All these are properly set on tables, with posters of the work surrounding them.

The Fine Arts department naturally has the largest showing with samples of letter work, posters, drawing, painting and stencil work in pillows, scarfs, banners and hand-tooled leather.

In the center of the Assembly Hall, may be seen very attractive furniture, sewing cabinets, tables, lamp stands, illustrating some of the year's bench work and cabinet work. In the cement work may be seen small form building and sweep work for a bird bath. The metal and machine work are also represented. The Yacht Club has several model yachts including one with a motor.

The printing department exhibits the many school forms printed for various needs of the school including tickets, programs and the school paper. Here may be seen the linoleum blocks used for the Daytonian covers. The mechanical drawing, represents the plans for woodwork, machine work and sheet metal work, such as drill posts and sand paper blocks.

The science classes display notebooks on health, fire prevention, safety, heating systems and general science. A model airplane made in the Science Club may be seen.

The Camera Club exhibits pictures obtained only by connoisseurs of the art, the study and development.

The Social Studies classes show how we got our alphabet, a study in Egyptian religion, writing changes, the model of a medieval castle, salt and dresses, underwear and blouses. Some of the girls are exhibiting dresses made for younger sisters.

The academic subjects do not obtain very much handwork but they are represented by illustrations from the classes in English for The Legend of Sleepy Hollow and Evangeline; in the Latin classes, by illustrated correlations of the Latin with English by means of derivatives and posters; in the French classes by notebooks and posters.

The silver cup to be awarded the class having the highest record in scholarship and athletics went to the seventh grade. The ninth grade won the Field Meet.

Thursday afternoon, the men teachers attended the schoolmasters' outing at Salem Willows. The novel invitations anticipated a good time with sports of all kinds and a good menu.

Mason School

The eighth grades had their class pictures taken.

The seventh grades were invited on Wednesday, to see the work in drawing which the eighth grades had finished. The cushion covers are exceptionally interesting, this year in colors and design.

The base ball team of the Mason school, last Thursday, won 13-5, over the Waban team at their grounds.

The Mason Tennis Team defeated the Bigelow team, June 9, at the Burr playground. The score was 6-3.

The players were: Louis Volpe, Jr., won; Edward Appleton, lost; Chas. Hills, lost; Stuart Baird, won; Richard Bancroft, won; Charles Houghton, won.

The doubles matches were played first.

Volpe-Appleton, lost; Hills-Baird, won; Bancroft-Houghton, won.

The Bowen School heads the district on attendance this month, with an average of 96.5. The Oak Hill school had no one tardy.

Lasell

The senior class will hold their class night exercises, Monday evening, June 15, on the grounds at Lasell Seminary.

Tuesday morning, June 16, at 10.45, the Commencement exercises will be held at the Congregational Church, Auburndale. The address will be given by Rev. James Gordon Gilkey of Springfield, Mass.

In the afternoon at two o'clock, there will be a Reunion of Alumni and former students at Bragdon Hall.

The Misses Allen School

The school closed this week for the seniors who have been spending ten days in intensive preparation for the College Board examinations. After Graduation, Miss Lucy Allen, the principal, Miss Ruby Keefe, the English teacher; Miss Siedloff of the music department; Miss Dorothy Dewing of the mathematics department; and Mme. Laurence Edwards of the French department; all expect to spend the summer in European study and travel. The school has a large enrolment for the fall.

BURR TENNIS ASSOCIATION

The final rounds of some of the tournaments will be played on this week, Saturday, at the Burr Playground. At 2.15, Grace Garcelon will play Ann Bruner in the Women's Singles, for the cup given by the Newton Community Club. At 3.15, the finals of the Men's Doubles will be played with Mr. George Sampson and Mr. Harry W. Fitts, playing the winner of the Clark-Cunningham vs. Briggs-Gotshall match. Both the Girls' Singles and Boys' Singles are to be played at 4.15. In the former, Katherine Sprague will meet the winner of the match between Virginia Spurrier and Marjorie Briggs. BOY SCOUTS

The Council Rally Saturday at Clafin Field, Newtonville, is the big event in scouting for the whole year. This is the time when all scouts are instructed, not invited, to attend an event and are expected to turn out to help their troops show the others what it can accomplish by real team work and the proper spirit of co-operation. Even if they do not win a place in the final count, they have the satisfaction of having participated in the real scouting activity and of having done their best for the glory of their own troop and Norumbega Council.

Troops report on the field at 2.00 P. M., or before, they may come as early as 1.30, but must be there at 2.00. The Council will form at 2.30 sharp and inspection will follow immediately. Then will come the color ceremony, passing in review and the events in order as follows: 1, Antelope Race; 2, Firemaking without matches; 3, Semaphore Signaling; 4, General Service code Signaling; 5, Water Boiling; 6, Stretcher Race; 7, Equipment Race; 8, Knot Tying Race; 9, Competitive Troop Drill.

After event 4, the Bugle and Drum Corps from Troop 4, Newton Highlands, will give a demonstration of a few minutes. The award of ribbons and the cup will be made by Mr. Edward Kimball, Vice-President of the Council, in the absence of Mr. Wm. S. Radway. Mr. B. M. Russell, National Executive of the Winchester Junior Rifle Corps, will award the National Championship Cup to the rifle team of Troop 1 of Newtonville, as referred to below and the Rally will be closed by "Taps" by the Bugler, to be sung by all:

"Day is Done
Gone the Sun
From the Lakes
From the Hills
From the Sky
All is well
Safely Rest
God is nigh"

There is no admission charge and all are welcome. Every scout parent should be on hand to help with their moral support and show their interest in this, the "Greatest Show Club in the World."

In case of rain the Rally will be held in the West Newton Armory.

The Rifle Team of troop 1, Newtonville, has covered themselves with glory and distinctly put the City of Newton and the section of Newtonville on the map as the home of the Junior Rifle champions of the United States. The team was organized under the direction of Mr. Richard W. Cotton, Scoutmaster, with Samuel Moore, leader and chartered as Winchester.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

Leverett D. G. Bentley

It was to be one of those family affairs in which everybody piled into the car for a pleasant Sunday afternoon spin. "Where would you like to go?" they asked the man who had been father's guest at dinner. "I'd like to drive into the country and down to the shore of a pond and hear the birds sing". The rest of the group roared with mirth. Here was a great joke from a practical business man—the last one you would expect to be facetious. "I'm not being funny", protested the guest of the day. "I mean I'd like to do just that." The others stared in astonishment. "You know I'm shut up in the city most of the time and it's a treat to get out in the woods." His wish was promptly granted and the trip to the shore of a charming pond was made with reasonable speed. Again was great surprise expressed by the other members of the party that their guest should have been so well informed as to the names and the habits of birds. He was able to describe many things unknown to the rest of the group and learned by them for the first time with much satisfaction. It had come to him in his boyhood and he had remembered. We, ourselves, were relating the above incident to a number of friends at the luncheon table. "There isn't enough attention paid to such matters by our young folks," said the physician across the table from me. "I only wish the schools would take up the subject." He went on. "I believe that our youngsters would greatly appreciate the birds if they knew more about them. The things most common to us are the things of which we know the least." We argued. "We walk along the street of our home city and we don't know enough about aborigines to tell the trees apart. And as for flowers. Well, maybe we are able to identify those which practically everybody knows, but what knowledge have we beyond that? None whatever! Some system should be evolved through the public schools of interesting pupils of every grade in birds, trees and flowers. To know more of nature is to broaden the intellect and if that isn't a vital part of our present educational system then I would like to be shown what is".

The discussion above recounted has recalled to us our own experiences while tramping through parts of central and western Massachusetts. One of our favorite vacation places for so many years back was Petersham, which is not far from Athol and reached by stage from the larger town. Another place in which we have spent many happy hours is Ashfield, near Shelburne Falls, and also accessible by stage. These stages were once the old-fashioned buckboards, but now the automobile bus makes the trip in one-fifth the time. In both places we obtained shelter at the local hotel and there enjoyed excellent accommodations. It was our daily program to get up early and take a tramp and return at nightfall. Much to our satisfaction and delight we found in both places fellow vacationists who were experts on botany. In consequence we put in many a day in Worcester county and later in Franklin county learning more than we could have from volumes. It is astonishing how much more readily one absorbs information on a ramble of this character. In each instance our guide would stop suddenly and point what to us appeared to be the commonest sort of weed. He would tell us that there was something rare, its origin, etc. The result was that we got to keeping our own eye out for the unusual. As it happened we picked out the least interesting things on the road. That was because we were so ignorant of botany. These experts on plants were not the only ones from whom we gathered information. At Petersham we met several instructors at the Harvard Forestry School and with them explored the great reservation. We do not seek to inflict upon our readers any of the information we picked up in this way. We only desire to emphasize the value of getting outdoors and meeting nature. If, as has been suggested, the young people were taught these things in school it might for a time at least take the place of the "Let's go" spirit which threatens the home.

Unless we have been misled these are the days of class and school photographs. It is some time since we have faced a camera so that it may be that a few people think we lack the nerve. If possible we should prefer to discuss this matter without personal reference and for the sake of argument will agree to that or anything. We are sorry for those who have not among their possessions a photograph taken when the owner was "graduating" from the last grade in the grammar school. If the solemn faces of the boys and girls are not a subject of deepest interest, then the possessor must be without the joy of sentimental feelings. "How changed!" that is the first thought that rushes to mind. Freckles that were numerous have entirely disappeared; the slender and the "skinny" have accumulated flesh in generous amounts; the dainty have become less attractive and the unattractive have turned to grace and good looks. In short a miracle worked by Father Time is usually to be found when we study one of these charming old photographs. There were many things that went with the taking of his picture. It was not a mere incident in the life of the one to be photographed—it was a major event in his life and in the lives of the other members of the family. Word was usually sent out in advance that a photograph was to be made at 9.30, or some such hour, the following Friday. When the pupil hurried home with the news of course there was general excitement. Two things were imperative. The subject of the artist's portraiture (there were no such high-sounding words then) must be arrayed in his or her best. Arrayed, did we say? We meant adorned. The girl must have a new dress and a new hair ribbon and the is commendable. A man who "wants to have his place looking nice" as the old saying puts it, is ambitious, not only for himself but for the interests of the city. The investor, promoter and real estate dealer who doesn't care what happens as long as he gets the business is not a good citizen. We believe that Newton has been afflicted with a sufficient number of double-houses of a class which are no ornament but rather a cause of decreasing real estate values. Let the aldermen direct their attention first to preventing any more such atrocities. After steps have been taken which will assure the citizens that their fair city is not to be made ugly by conscienceless profit-seekers other details can be properly handled.

It's flavor makes us call it "nice". We like it 'cause it's made with ice. And then again its modest price—All hail the ice cream cone!

We pity those of long ago. Because its joys they did not know

They missed the ice cream cone. And didn't have the coin to blow—In mountain wild or sandy shore. Wherever you and I explore. We'll hear the words, "Hooray, encore. Another ice cream cone!"

It has been suggested that in this column there might be something written calling attention of the city government to the necessity of making provision for the great throng of travelers passing through Nonantum square, particularly on Sunday. It has never been thought important by the powers that be at City Hall to provide for the convenience of strangers with such facilities as Brookline has placed in Village square, and as many other smaller cities and towns provide. We regret to say that Newton is not only prone to remain behind the times in these matters but rather puts itself on the back for consistently maintaining an attitude toward strangers of, "We didn't invite you and it's of no consequence to us whether you like the city or not".

OVER TWO THOUSAND MORE

From January 1st, to June 1st, 1924, (4,656) people enjoy the clubs, classes and activities of the Stearns School Centre in Nonantum, from January 1st, to June 1st, 1925, (7,277) enjoy the clubs, classes and activities making a difference of 2,621.

After a busy year of classes in millinery, drawing, psychology, embroidery, folk dancing, dramatics as well as basketball, baseball, and many other game programs not to mention the very delightful banquets that the Senior Girls' and Mothers' Club enjoy, we are now entering the playtime of the year which brings its picnics and outings.

Our Brownies had such a happy time at Echo Bridge, where they were completely surrounded by a Brownie atmosphere. The trees, flowers, grass, reflections in the water, all were so beautiful to each little Brownie, and thru the mysterious Echo—"Who is up there," asked our little Brownies as she listened intently to the echo.

The Blue Bird Club also had such a delightful time on their day's outing to Franklin Park. After a visit around to the animals a very thrilling baseball game got under way; this was followed by relay races and the treat of the day—the picnic.

The Senior Girls' Club, are planning a real out door "weenie roast" at Cedar Hill, Waltham. Only those who have taken the time to visit this ideal place, can imagine the treat that is in store. Supper cooked right at the fireplace will be one of the novels of the day, and then the outdoor swimming pool will provide fun and activity for all.

The Junior Girls' Club are planning a trip to Provincetown, on the 29th. The Mothers' Club, too are going to have their annual outing to Nantasket.

Junior Rifle Corps Unit, No. 2654, May 14th, 1924. They surprised everyone by winning the second place in the Boy Scout Championship Match of 1924.

This was their first match, the winners being awarded the Championship. Entering the Winner Seal Contest for 1925, they won ten straight matches and by their success were handicapped by WJRC National Headquarters, being obliged to shoot off-hand, kneeling, and sitting against the easier prone method used by their opponents.

This resulted in eight defeats in the following four weeks but by hard work they mastered the difficult positions and turned the tables on their opponents as on May 1st, the Official Bulletin gave them the fine record of 55 victories and 9 defeats, a lead of 19 over their nearest rivals.

Many of the matches resulted in a perfect score and the decisions were made by counting the hits made in the "A" circle of the Bulls-eye which is about the size of a dime. One match in January with a Chicago Unit they scored a possible 500 out of 500 with 99 "A's".

On April 24th, they raised this with a California Unit to 100 "A's" or an absolutely perfect score that will stand for all time. In addition to winning the Boy Scout Championship with 30 points they also beat the Harvard Freshman Team with 22 points.

Mr. B. M. Russell, the National Executive of the Winchester Junior Rifle Corps, will present the Winner Seal Cup at the Rally Saturday afternoon, which goes to the team winning the greatest number of matches for the past season.

This event will conclude the most successful season on record in which numerous records have been broken by this team, both as a team and individually.

An interesting Court of Honor was held at Newton Centre Playground House, Thursday evening, June 4th, all of the tests and awards being made out of doors. The following scouts were advanced to Second Class: Clark and Dufield, Troop 11; Seigener, Dimock and Kenneth Brown, Troop 10; Baird, Gardner, Gulliver and Holmstrand, Troop 5. Merit Badges were awarded to James Hymers, Maurice Whittinghill and Alden Speare of Troop 5, the two latter also receiving the Star Scout Badge; Granger Hapgood, Robert Patterson and Franklin Colbeigh of Troop 4.

Antonio Valente of this village, football star and manager of the Newton High track team, saved the life of Myer Saul of Somerville, last Sunday, at Auburndale Cove. Valente was in the bathhouse when he heard the shouts of the drowning boy. Rushing out, he was just in time to see Myer disappear for the third time. He dashed into the water and swam to the place the boy was last seen, and after diving in about ten feet of water succeeded in grasping the unconscious lad by the hair. He quickly swam to shore with his heavy burden, and after an hour of first aid work, and with the help of willing hands, Saul was brought back to consciousness.

HISTORICAL PAGEANT

An Historical Pageant of a unique character was presented in the First Baptist Church, Newton Centre, on Monday night as a part of the Centennial of the Newton Theological Institution. The pageant was written and directed by Rev. Charles N. Arbutnot, pastor of the Church, and Miss Priscilla H. Fowle of Newton Centre.

A student announced the coming of Alma Mater attended by the ladies of her court.

Arrayed in Newton colors she ascends her throne and receives the tributes of the Decades. The Angel of the Churches presents the students and alumni who come to view the pageant of the years. A scribe acts as interpreter.

There were three episodes. The first took place in Father Grafton's house, Newton Centre, November 28, 1825, the day the seminary opened. All the characters in this scene were historical except two.

The second episode took place in the court of Alma Mater. The characters included those of episode 1, and in addition the spirit of the scriptures, of Pastoral Duties of Theology of Church History, of Missions, Social Service and Religious Education, Biblical characters, Historical characters, and representatives of different countries, and well known educators. This episode illustrated the development of the curriculum of the Institution.

The third and last episode included the characters of the preceding and in addition, the Spirit of the Old Century, and the Spirit of the New Century.

In this Alma Mater tells of her vision for Newton in the years to come. She summons her alumni to make the dream come true. The century ends. The spirit of the Old Century crowns Alma Mater and the Spirit of the New Century welcomes her.

The pageant ended with the singing of "Jesus, Still Lead On."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LECTURE

By Miss Margaret Murney Glenn, C. S. B., at Community Theatre, Newton

The Community Theatre was well filled Sunday afternoon by an audience representing the Newtons, Waltham and Brookline as well as Boston. The lecturer is well known here, having been Second Reader in the Mother Church, Boston, for three years.

She was introduced by Mr. Wentworth P. Barker, First Reader of the Christian Science Church in Newton, in these words:

Friends—We are very glad to be able to welcome you here today as our guests, to partake of the feast that has been prepared for you; and we feel confident that as a result of this feast you will not only be refreshed and uplifted, but you will also experience a sense of real, genuine gratitude.

The one who is to address you on the subject of Christian Science speaks with authority, as she is a member of the Board of Lecturers of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts.

Her special subject for this afternoon is, "Man's Unity with God as Revealed by Christian Science."

I take great pleasure in introducing to you Miss Margaret Murney Glenn of Boston.

Miss Glenn spoke as follows:

Christian Science reveals that a scientific, indestructible unity exists between God and man, and that man's health, intelligence, and perfection are dependent upon, and the result of, this unity. The first chapter of Genesis, in its account of the basic realities of creation, affirms throughout this inseparability. Its opening words, "In the beginning God created," and its statements as to what constitutes creation, indicate the co-existence of God and man. Note that the four words "in the beginning God" do not complete the thought, for the verse definitely states "in the beginning God created." To interpret this word "beginning" as a starting-point for God, who is infinite Life, or for man, who is the eternal reflection of God, would be illogical, therefore unscientific.

Such a theory would presuppose a period of non-existence for God and man. The chapter of Genesis do, however, serve as a beginning, starting-point, or foundation for all scientific thinking with regard to God and the universe. The days of creation mentioned in Genesis do not imply a lapse of time between one creation and another, as is commonly believed, but they show forth the orderly unfolding of the human mind of God's perfect, eternal creation, a creation that was never fragmentary, but forever complete.

This same method is used in describing any human creation or invention. For instance, suppose that you were to describe an automobile to some one who had never seen such a thing. Would you not begin with its parts, the chassis, engine, steering gear, et cetera and explain the nature and function of each? Thus, step by step, or day by day, as the Bible puts it, would be unfolded to the consciousness of the ignorant one the complete idea of what constitutes an automobile. The automobile, however, would remain unchanged in its completeness, before, during, and after this explanation.

So in the first chapter of Genesis the details of God's creation are unfolded to the human consciousness, which is ignorant of the ideas of divine Mind. And man, who is in Mind's complete image and likeness, is thereby described. Man, like the automobile, remains unchanged in his completeness before, during, and after this description.

The Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, Mary Baker Eddy, writes (Science and Health, p. 306), "If God, who is Life, were parted for a moment from His reflection, man, during that moment there would be no divinity reflected. The Ego would be unexpressed, and the Father would be childless,—no Father." God could not possibly be without a creation to manifest the fact that He is the Creator. The creation, on the other hand, could not possibly be rounded by friends, joyous, and free. Should we seem to be separated from a loved one, Christian Science comforts us with the truth that God's love fills all space and that we cannot feel sorrow or grief in the presence of Love's tenderness, affection, and strength, which satisfieth. And because this spirit of Truth is a Science it is demonstrable, for we can always prove Truth to be true.

Scholastic theology, medicine, theology, Darwinism, in fact all the other "isms," are based on the belief that man is unlike God. They are not founded on the true, logical, and scientific statements in the first chapter of Genesis, but use the Adam-dream or allegory as the basis for their statements. These theories, that man is a sinner, but can be made holy; that man is sick, but will be healthy; that man has evolved from a protoplasm and monkey up to a state where he has some animal tendencies combined with manlike qualities, or that man's soul can embody itself in an animal,—these unique theories leave God without any manifestation or expression of Himself while man is supposedly experiencing these strange things. It is from such false reasoning and education as this that we all need to be freed. Christian Science with its perfect logic, its love, its healing power and comfort is delivering us from bondage to the darkness and ignorance of such theories.

This tender, loving spirit of Truth reveals God as Mother as well as Father, and this revelation is essential to humanity's welfare, health, and comfort. In the first chapter of Genesis it reads, "Let us make man in our image, after our likeness." But the divine It is both feminine and masculine. Christian Science with its perfect logic, its love, its healing power and comfort is delivering us from bondage to the darkness and ignorance of such theories.

ROTARY CLUB

Members of the Newton Rotary Club enjoyed an unusually entertaining talk at their regular weekly luncheon on Monday, at the Woodland Golf Club, when the guest and speaker was Miss Myrtle Miles, Director of Public Relations of the Women's Department of the New York Central Railroad. There was the usual good attendance. Vice-President Arthur LeBaron presiding in the absence of President Ira S. Roe who, with former President William T. Halliday, is in attendance at the annual convention of the International Rotary, at Cleveland.

Miss Miles brought new viewpoints on matters of transportation and of the relations between a large railroad system and the public. She spoke interestingly of many matters connected with transportation with which the average business man is not familiar, introducing new facts and discussing them from different angles than might be anticipated by those not conversant with present day railroad methods and problems. She experienced no difficulty in holding the close attention of her audience, proving a fluent speaker with a wealth of interesting information and a convincing manner of presenting it to her hearers.

Arrangements are being rapidly completed for the coming outing of the local Rotarians, at Camp Mashnee, on Mashnee Island, to be held on June 26, 27, and 28. Chairman "Joe" Crowell and his outing committee have not only arranged a program that promises to be continuous and provide plenty of variety, sport, and entertainment, for the entire party regardless of the personal inclinations of the individual members, but have succeeded in arousing more interest and enthusiasm over a coming event than ever before. An advance guard will leave Newton on Friday, June 26, with another party starting out on Saturday, June 27. All of the facilities of the camp and Island—which is one of the beauty spots of Buzzards Bay—will be placed at the disposal of the party, with sail boats, athletic field, tennis courts, bathing beach, and everything else necessary to the complete success of an event of this kind.

D. A. R.

The Lucy Jackson Chapter D. A. R. house, Newton Lower Falls, will be open every Saturday afternoon, from 2 to 5:30 during June, July and August, for Tea Room, Gift Shop and Antiques. The hostesses this Saturday are Mrs. Newhall and Mrs. Peabody. Next Tuesday the Chapter will go to Springfield to dedicate the girls' dormitory at International College.

BOY SCOUTS

Troop 4, Newton Highlands, again walked off with the Council silverware by winning the Irwin Cup at the Rally at Clavin Field last Saturday (June 13).

Event number 1 was an antelope race of a highly exciting nature: all but two of the crews sank before the finish. Of the survivors, Troop 3, West Newton, won first place with five points, and Troop 7, West Newton, won second place with three points.

Event number 2, Firemaking without matches, was quickly won by Charles Parker of Troop 4, Newton Highlands, who got his tinder aflame in two minutes—quicker than some people could do it with matches on an equally windy day. Five points were thereupon awarded Troop 4.

Event number 3, Semaphore signaling, was won by Troop 4, which took first place with five points, and by Troop 10, Waban, which took second place with three points.

Event number 4, General Service Code signalling, was won by Troop 4, with five points for first place; and by Troop 7, with three points for second place. No other points were awarded because the messages which the other signalling teams turned in were, through a slight error, written in Choctaw instead of English. These were ruled out because English had been agreed upon as the official language of the rally. Troop 11 Newton, had to render First Aid to their flagman, Marshall Nelson, who signalled with such lightning rapidity that he raised a blister on his end of the line and doubts on the part of John Fellows, the receiver on the other end of the line.

At this point a terrific crash was heard, and everybody looked around to see where the thunder was coming from. It was merely the Troop 4 Bugle and Drum Corps giving a demand.

DOLLAR DAY SATURDAY

Newton Corner's Second Big Dollar Day is announced to be held tomorrow June 20. The success of the first Dollar Day three months ago so far exceeded expectations that since that time there has been an insistent demand for another similar event before summer. This has not only come from the merchants but equally as much from the public, the latter having found out for itself that a Dollar Day in Newton can be made fully as attractive as in any other community. The outstanding feature of the plans for the second Dollar Day is a determination on the part of the Newton Corner merchants—to profit to the fullest extent from the experiences of the first Dollar Day, and to make the second even more attractive and satisfying from the viewpoint of the buying public. Those merchants who co-operated in the first Dollar Day and offered the inducements that brought out the buyers that crowded the Newton Corner stores, are planning to offer the second event. Those who appreciate real bargains will find hundreds of opportunities on every hand in Newton Corner.

To get out as many people as possible, to get as many as possible into each individual store, and to help to further popularize Newton Corner as a trading center are the chief objectives of every merchant. The buying public will undoubtedly derive the greater financial benefits that go with an event of this kind, but a large volume of cash sales and substantial further impetus to the "Trade in Newton" movement will more than compensate the merchants for the price sacrifices and special efforts that are being put forth to make the day—and everything connected with it—a big success.

Y. M. C. A. LOSES

On the Newton "Y" field last Saturday, the West Newton A. colored team defeated the "Y" 12 to 7. Errors and listless playing on the part of the "Y" boys was responsible for the colored boys' victory. The "Y" had one of the best teams on the field that they have had this season and should easily have taken the game under ordinary circumstances. Five runs in the fifth inning by the visitors was responsible for the downfall of the "Y" team.

Both Cunningham for the local team and McClellan for the visitors pitched fine baseball. Poor support for Cunningham when McClellan received the best of support made the difference in scoring. Time after time Newton had men on base only to have their side retired before it could count runs. This Wednesday, June 17th, Newton "Y" will meet Winter Hill Baseball Team and on Saturday, June 20th, Somerville Church will visit Newton for a game at three o'clock. Last Saturday's game was the second defeat out of seven games for Newton. They hope to add two more to their win column this week.

FLAG DAY EXERCISES

The annual Flag Day exercises of the Newton Lodge of Elks, were held at Burr Park, on Sunday, and were well attended, some two thousand being present.

The Flag Day Ritual of the order was conducted by John H. Gordon, E. R., and the officers of Newton Lodge. A pleasing feature was a recitation by Ruth Gordon, daughter of the Exalted Ruler.

The Flag Day oration was delivered by Mr. Henry J. Ryan, (Sailor Ryan) a member of Newton Lodge. Music was furnished by Strachans Band. A parade preceded the exercises and the large Flag presented to the Lodge, by the late Henry W. Crowell, was carried by a number of the members.

BIG BENEFIT SHOW FOR SALVATION ARMY

Newton Lodge of Elks has taken over the Norumbega Park Theatre for the afternoon and evening of Sunday, June 21, when a huge benefit show will be presented for the benefit of the Salvation Army. Two performances will be given for this fund, known as the Fresh Air Fund.

NEW ARRIVALS

At last—something new! Those with an incurable cartoon complex will be glad to know that new friends have arrived on the scene. Barney Google, Mutt and Jeff, Abe Martin, and all the other old favorites had best look to their laurels. Their supremacy in the field is challenged because—
The Heat Folks have come to town! They have taken up their headquarters at the Brackett Coal Co., and their frequent appearance in these columns will put a new slant on the coal business.

A paper without its comic strips would be like salt without the savor, like bread without butter, like a circus without a clown, like a movie without a romance.

And now the Heat Folks are here to add interest to our advertising columns. They are as talkative as Andy Gump, and as active as the Katzenjammer Kids. Grate fun—they give you all sorts of sound advice (which you'll want to follow if you're interested in cutting coal bills—and who isn't?) They're hot stuff. Watch for them!

THE NEWTON ARCHERS

About a dozen archers won shooting on the range at Newton Centre, Saturday.

Archers are now practising for the coming Eastern Archery Association tournament, that is to be held at Deerfield Academy, Deerfield, Mass., July 1, 2, and 3. Miss Ruth Brewer of Institution Avenue, Newton Centre, is the Secretary-Treasurer of this organization.

Of the Newton people who have definitely decided to attend are, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Woolley of Newton Highlands; Mr. and Mrs. J. P. True and Miss True of Waban; Mrs. Burton Payne Gray of Newton Centre; and Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Smith and Miss Smith of Newton Centre.

This association includes archers residing east of the Mississippi, and was formed in 1879.
An unusually interesting meet is promised for this year. Events include the usual target shooting, (as seen at Newton Centre), a 120 and 180 yard clout shoot and a novelty shoot.

BURR TENNIS ASSOCIATION

Last Saturday, the finals of the Boys' Singles and Mens' Doubles were played at the Burr Playground. In the former, Charles Diman defeated Edward Strum, 6-1, 6-2. In the Mens' Doubles, George A. Briggs and Abbott Goshall defeated George A. Sampson and Harry W. Pitts, 6-1, 9-7, 6-3.

There will be 4 final round matches played on this week, Saturday. At 2.15, Dorothy Stebbins and Whitfield Painter will play Elinor Marsh and Sam Tutill in the Mixed Doubles. The Mens' Singles, will be at 3.00, between the winner of the Painter-Dunmore match and Malcolm Clark. At 4.15, the Girls' Singles and the Women's Singles, will be played as these matches were unavoidably postponed from last week. The former will be between Katherine Sprague and Virginia Spurrier, and the latter between Grace Garcelon and Ann Bruner.

FATAL ACCIDENT

Mr. Louis Baker, 50, of 90 Crafts street, Newtonville, was instantly killed early Sunday morning when his car left the Daniel Webster highway on the dangerous turn at the east end of the lower bridge on Water street, Concord, N. H. Samuel Gerson of Malden and Harry Blaustein of Everett, the other occupants of the automobile were badly shaken up and bruised. They were taken to the Margaret Pillsbury Hospital and left after their injuries had been treated. Baker was engaged by Blaustein and Gerson to drive them to Bethlehem and left Boston shortly after midnight. Baker was said to be unfamiliar with the road and failed to observe in time the dangerous curve at the bridge. The car was traveling about 35 miles an hour, the police were told, and Baker, leaving the highway, went straight ahead, crashing through the fence and over the 40-foot embankment to the edge of the river.

The president of Housing Corporation of Miss Ryder's fifth grade announced the completion of their village of Hydeville on Thursday. The thirty-six houses are somewhat similar in design, but a great variety of window and door decorations, garages, fine lawns, shrubs and trees make a very attractive community.

During the present school year the following pupils have had perfect attendance: Rosamond Greenoff, Lester Davis, Russell Riley, Arthur Bartlett, Ralph Ives, Thomas Boothby, Harriet Chapin, Florence Green, Carolyn White, Virginia Ewart, Harold Banks, Archie MacLellan, Catherine Martin, Edward Patterson, Richard Haggood, Catherine Gray, Harriet Gray, Ruth Geyer, Jeanne Manning, Richard Pope and Albert Hutehinson, who holds a record of having perfect attendance for five years.

The kindergarten prepared a very pretty doll house which they took to the Peabody Home for the children there to enjoy.

Arthur Boyden of Miss Green's first grade has brought in over sixty wildflowers this spring.

During the present school year three hundred and twenty-six pupils have deposited money in the school bank.

Miss Green's fifth grade has received very attractive booklets from their correspondents in Belgium. One folio contained very unique hand-work done by the kindergarten. A very interesting letter told of the industries and home life of the Belgian people.

Class Day was held on the playground, Thursday, June 10. The children celebrated by athletic contests, for which small prizes were given. Refreshments of ice cream, cake and punch were served.

BOY SCOUT RALLY

onstration of their art. Troop 4 is certainly to be congratulated on the fine appearance of this corps; it has been most successful, and can be heard for miles without any difficulty whatever.

Event number 5 took place with considerable mirth. It was to have been a water-bolling contest. The wood supplied each contestant, however, was of the "fireless" variety. It wouldn't burn. In view of the difficulty, each scout was allowed six matches with which he endeavored to start a fire. The flaming youth who finally won five points for first place was Scout Nevins of Troop 5, Newton Centre. Troop 4 won three points for second place, and Troop 10, Waban, won one point for third place.

Event number 6, a first aid and stretcher race brought 5 points to Troop 5, Newton Centre for winning first place, 3 points to Troop 4, for second place, and one point to Troop 11, Newton, for winning third place.

Event number 7 was an equipment race: a race to get dressed quickly! Parents whose sons are ordinarily slower than cold molasses about getting dressed for school in the morning sat aghast in the grandstand at the speed with which their sons worked to win points for their troops. Troop 4 won five points for first place; Troop 11, Newton, won three points for second place, and Troop 3 won one point for third place.

Event number 9, Competitive drill, gave a better opportunity than any other event for teamwork on the part of a whole troop at a time. Troop 4, under the command of a non-commissioned officer, moved with machine-like precision and accuracy, and was awarded five points for first place. Cooperation from every scout was quite evident, and the drillmaster who prepared the troop for the rally certainly deserves credit, whoever he was. Troop 10 Waban came second with three points, and Mr. Warren must be complimented on the appearance of this troop. Troop 5 of Newton Centre came a close third with one point.

This left the total scores for the six best troops as follows: (1) Troop 4, 41 points; (2) Troop 5, 14 points; (3) Troop 3, 10 points; (4) Troop 10, 8 points; (5) Troop 7, 6 points; (6) Troop 11, 4 points.

At the conclusion of the rally, an unusual scene occurred, when an executive of the Winchester Junior Rifle Corps who had come all the way from Washington, D. C., for the occasion, presented a tremendous silver cup to the Rifle Team of Troop 1, Newtonville, World's Champions. Sam Moore of this team was awarded the rank of "Distinguished Rifleman" for shooting over 1500 bullseyes in succession. This surpasses all world records so far as is known.

Then as the entire council came first to attention and then to Parade Rest. Taps was played by the bugler. Everybody was supposed to sing the words to Taps, but unfortunately everybody was so extremely bashful about it, that this number on the program resolved itself into a magnificent duet between Mr. Carley and Mr. Woodworth, energetically rendered in the operatic style. "Scoutmaster take charge!" came the order, and the rally was over for another year.

The next Court of Honor for Boy Scouts of Norumbega Council will be held at the headquarters of Troop 3, Waban, at 7:30 P. M., Thursday, June 25th. The Troop 3 headquarters are in the Old Fire House, two minutes east of West Newton square. The applications or records of all scouts planning to attend this Court of Honor should be sent to Mr. E. W. Varney, Deputy Commissioner, 66 Fenway, Boston, Mass., before June 23rd.

During the Summer, one Court of Honor will be held in July and one in August. Notice of the time and place will appear in this paper later.

YOU AUTO SEE OTTER LAKE

Greenfield, New Hampshire. Take your family and your children and see the most beautiful lake and views in southern New Hampshire. Today everyone wants a summer vacation, a place for summer vacation and a place for weekends; a place to fish, to hunt, to rest, to play, to enjoy the kiddies, to play safely, boat, bathe and fish. One also wants an environment that has not been encroached upon and not too far away and approachable over beautiful wooded roads, and such is Otter Lake, Greenfield, N. H. We have some very attractive cottages with ice, wood, all furnished and with boat that we can offer for only $500 to $1,000 down. Also some beautiful views of the lake and fine shore frontage from $200 to $500. One of the coolest spots one could possibly find and the hot winds from the south and southwest come over the water, hence always cool. 1,000-foot elevation. Spend a day and have a real outing. The owner is in the last cottage on the lake Saturdays and Sundays, or if interested see

Also suggested by the same owner and adjoining house with 5 master's chambers and a bath, 2 main rooms, completely furnished, for only $12,000. Furnishings of the value of the house. Reasonable terms to reliable parties. These are both speculative purchases.

MOTHERS REST

Its New Home at Oak Hill Inspected and Dedicated Last Sunday Afternoon

Last Sunday afternoon, the members and friends of The Mothers' Rest Association of the City of Newton in large numbers gathered at the new home just completed in the Oak Hill District to inspect and dedicate to its work the new building.

Nearly two hundred people were assembled in the large living room and the roomy porch opening from it on either side when at a little after four o'clock the president of the Association, Mrs. H. H. Kendall, called the meeting to order and briefly told the story of the Rest from its conception in the heart of the Rev. Dr. Everett D. Burr, then pastor of the First Baptist Church, Newton Centre, its presentation to the women of his church in a description of the increase of crime in the summer months, the influence of the home as affected by the heat, the exhaustion and the stress of life in the city under summer conditions, and the influence of the wife and mother on home conditions.

She told of the eager response of the group of devoted women, naming some who were present, and of the City's aid in loaning the building at Waban then just vacated by the city poor for the first season, the subsequent removal to the House on Winchester street and later to the property in Needham Heights, which was occupied until this year, which marks the twenty-fifth anniversary of the Rest.

At first a child of the Baptist Church in Newton Centre, it soon became a village enterprise and enlisted the support and sympathy of the entire community, and more recently has become the work of the entire City, drawing nearly a thousand into its membership and enlisting the aid of many more.

When it was necessary to move from the Winchester House there was a period of great distress, for no suitable place could be found. But the darkest time was just before the light. A casual visit found the property in Needham waiting for a purchaser and a

BOY SCOUTS

Quite a number of scouts from this Council are planning for two weeks or more at Loon Pond Camp, Middleboro, which is the Boston Council Camp but designated as the official camp for this Council for this year. Scouts may pass examinations at this camp, only that will be accepted by the Norumbega Council.

An arrangement has been made that groups of scouts may go to the Ohio after July 5th, Saturdays, on permission from Headquarters, under the charge of a Patrol Leader who will report to the Acting Camp Director at the Ohio. The number that may go without a commissioned officer will necessarily be limited to a group that can be properly directed by one officer and it is therefore necessary that permission be obtained a few days in advance. This will give those scouts that do not go away to camps and are not in touch with their scoutmaster an opportunity to get some camping during the summer, also to pass their outdoor tests.

ENTERTAINMENT

Last Monday evening, June 22nd, Sumner P. Lawrence Rebekah Lodge, No. 177, entertained their families and invited guests with a regular old time donation supper, followed by an excellent entertainment. The supper was in charge of Mrs. Catherine Vining, and she proved to be a first class hostess. She had an active group of assistants and the supper was delicious. After a short meeting the famous Black Joe and his Gang put on a lively minstrel show to the great enjoyment of all present. The stage presented an attractive picture with the group of darkies in front of a beautiful painting of a forest pond, and log cabin, which was on the back wall of the stage. This painting was artistically done by Mr. Charles W. Dow. Following are the members of "The Gang": Black Joe, Director and Bones, Charles F. Dow; Pianist, "Charlie," Charles W. Dow; Banjo, "Ernie," Ernest Doyle; Tamborine, "John," John Pauline; Tomboy, "Frank," Frank Murphy.

All were members of Garden City Encampment. Mrs. Charles F. Dow, Past Noble Grand of Sumner P. Lawrence Lodge, took the part of the "White Mammie" and Robert Buell was the Messenger Boy.

The following program was given: Music by Banjo and Piano Solo: Swanee River Ernest Doyle (Frank Murphy enters and joins in chorus) Song: Frank Murphy and Ernest (Continued on Page 6)

VICTORY FIELD DISCUSSED

Nonantum Residents Oppose Its Being Made a Public Playground on Account of Sunday Sports

A long session was anticipated at the Monday meeting of the Board of Aldermen. It was called to order shortly after four o'clock at which time routine business was taken up. At five o'clock several hearings were held. At 5:30 a recess was called until 7:45. During this period the Aldermen were given an excellent lunch at Players Hall. At 7:45 the board came to order again with every member present.

Among the many public hearings was one on the taking of Victory Field, Nonantum, by the city for playground purposes. Mr. J. W. Murphy, appearing in favor of the taking, stated that at first he did not intend to speak as he believed that 95 per cent of the residents in the vicinity were in favor of it, but he had learned that the fear that Sunday baseball would be allowed had stirred up some opposition. The need for a playground in the vicinity was pressing as the one now in use at the Stearns School was far inadequate. As for Allison Park—it was nothing but a gravel pit and city dump. Victory Field was equipped with one of the best ball-fields in the country, grandstands, lockers, show-

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

Leverett D. G. Bentley

It was only recently that we were privileged to gaze upon a "slicker" ornamented with drawings, phrases and names. The young person who wore it was distinctly of the "flapper" type and seemed to enjoy the mild sensation she created in a trolley car. We had heard of such things and although not especially interested in written descriptions we were glad to see one for ourselves. Just what the idea is we have not yet ascertained. Why should a perfectly clean slicker require pictures and the like on its surface? The drawings must have been made with some sort of ink or at least a fluid that could withstand the drenching rain, for the wearer in this instance had apparently been out in the rain. We would not go so far as to say that she did not know enough to come out of the rain, but we have our own suspicions to which, we believe, we are entitled under the law. The young woman did not remain still sufficiently long to give us a chance to copy the different phrases written on the back of the coat.

Neither did we have a chance to study the drawings. We saw there were representations of a young couple enjoying the ecstasies of the fox-trot, girls' heads, bobbed and otherwise and queries such as, "Have you seen Katie?" and "Hello!" Quite a picture gallery, as you will observe and calculated to provide a vast amount of thought. It appeared that the young woman was supremely happy and if a slicker partly covered with such nonsensical pencilings can make a young woman happy then let her wear it, say we. The "slicker" we possess is of dark green and has not the background appropriate for pictures and things like that. Since this garment was among our recent purchases and has been worn several times we do not feel that we can ask the dealer to exchange it for a light yellow one. Plainly we are not to have drawings of any kind on our "slicker" for some time. In fact, we have reason to believe that by the time we find it necessary to buy a new "slicker" the fashion for having them ornamented will have passed out. Our disappointment would be keener if we were not in possession of inside information that there will be little rain this Summer.

At the risk of being chided for dwelling on the subject of bad manners on street cars we are going to devote a few thoughts to a recent spectacle on a one-man car. We are not opposed to the one-man car, by the way. In fact we know that the street railway companies have been forced to adopt this form of conveyance in order to meet expenses on some of the more remote lines. Recently our travels took us to a place where a one-man car was the only thing for us to use. At one stop four young men boarded the car. One of them was smoking a cigar. He knew, as did the other passengers, that not only the rules of the company but common decency precluded smoking. He kept right on without interference. So pleased at his success produced cigarettes and lighted them. Thus they enjoyed an added privilege while the women in the car choked and coughed. The operator may or may not have observed what was going on. We wondered what use it would be for him to remonstrate and if he did what would happen. Again we were puzzled as to how a one-man car operator could be expected to preserve decorum and run the car on schedule time if the passengers became disorderly. It gave us another problem—one not too weighty and just about involved enough to warrant study on a warm Summer afternoon.

THE NEWTON ARCHERS

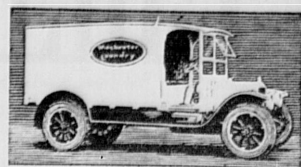

The archery range at Newton Centre seems to be occupied about every afternoon lately, but the largest crowd always gets out on Saturdays.

The new sign, put up by the Play-ground Department, prohibiting any sport but archery on the range will help to keep off small boys who like to use it as a ball field between times, to the detriment of the grass.

Mrs. Burton Payne Gray of Newton Centre is coaching a group of girls from the First Church Sunday School. The girls have only just started but they seem to be much interested, and we hope eventually to see some good archery from them. Archery really takes patience and practice for proficiency. However, if one is too busy for much practice, just the "joy of doing" will repay.

MEMORIAL LIBRARY

The West Newton Memorial Library Association ask all their friends to remember the plan for Library Week, the last week of October. In buying your summer reading matter, bear in mind that connected with the other activities of Library Week is to be a book store in the Unitarian Church parlor. When you have read your favorite "best sellers" either leave them and donate them to the "store" in the Fall, or mail any time during the summer to Mrs. S. B. Thomas, Mt. Vernon street. The store will not only have second hand books but through the kindness of several Boston Publishing firms you will be able to secure any book at this store.

NOTED PREACHERS

St. Mary's Parishioners and many Wellesley, Newton and Weston people have a great regard for Father Mc-Veigh Harrison, O. H. C., who in the last eighteen months has conducted two Missions at that Church. The Superior and Founder of The Order, Father James O. S. Huntington, Son of Bishop Frederic Dan Huntington, late Bishop of Central New York, is Lecturer at the Wellesley Conference for Church Work now in session at Wellesley College. He will preach at St. Mary's Church at a Special Service
arranged to suit his convenience next Sunday Evening at 8 o'clock. He will also be Celebrant next Monday Morning, St. Peter's Day, at 7.15 o'clock.

Father H. Hawkins, O. H. C., is also at The Conference and will celebrate and preach Sunday Morning at 10.45 o'clock. He has recently returned from Missionary Service in the Hinterland of Siberia, Africa 200 miles inland from the Coast, and has a wonderful story to tell of the heroic work of the Order
in that most difficult of all Mission fields.

St. Mary's is very fortunate to have two such notable Preachers on the same day and they will be cordially welcomed.

The Public generally is invited.

EARTHQUAKES

With Vice President Arthur L. Le Baron presiding the chief guest and speaker at the Rotary Club luncheon
on Monday at the Woodland Golf Club
was Dr. Allan Winter Rowe of Boston University School of Medicine. Dr.
Rowe spoke on the subject of "The Earthquake Hazard in New England" and his talk was full of most interesting information on this little known subject. He said in part that New England was in an earthquake zone with faults in the earth's structure in the Atlantic just off the New England coast, with a fault near the St. Lawrence valley, another in the Connecticut River region and a supposed fault near Nantucket. New England has had two known earthquakes, one in 1685, another in 1755 and has just experienced another in 1925, and he called attention to the fact that while these dates apparently were many years apart, they were really only a second, in geologic chronology, and showed that this district was subject to earthquake shocks. He called attention to the fact that Boston was largely built on made land and predicted that if we ever experienced a severe earthquake that the greatest damage would take place in that part of the city. He suggested that the study of earthquakes should lead to preparation for such an event in this region covering the possibilities of supply of milk, the care of the sick, the prevention of fire thru the control of gasoline, the supply of water, the mobilization of trucks for transportation of food to meet many unusual situations which accompany this phenomenon of nature.

WYMAN—DOUGLASS

Thursday was the wedding day of Miss Maria Elizabeth Douglass, daughter of Mrs. Fred Scott Douglass of Langley road, Newton Centre, and Charles Bradford Wyman of Brookline.

The wedding took place at the home of Mr. Elmer E. Gray of 1924 Commonwealth avenue, and was performed by the Rev. Abbot Peterson.

Mrs. Warren T. Ferguson of Brookline was the matron of honor, and Francis A. Wyman of New York City, brother of the groom, was the best man.

The ushers were Russell Hubbard, Fiske Rollins, and William V. Tripp,
all of Brookline.

Miss Virginia Redfield and Miss Elizabeth Redfield, twins, of Boston, were flower girls.
The bride wore a gown of white chif-fon over white satin trimmed with pearl embroidery, and carried lilies of the valley.

The maid of honor wore a gown of ashes of roses chiffon trimmed with black tulle and a large black hat. She carried yellow roses and blue larkspur.
A reception at the home was held after the ceremony, the house being tastefully decorated for the occasion.

After a trip to Europe, Mr. and Mrs.
Wyman will make their home at 394
Woodward street, Waban, about Oct.
1st.

land overlooking the Reservoir on Bea-son street, Chestnut Hill, containing approximately 11,500 square feet.
Thomas A. McCarthy of Newton conveying to Christian Riedl of Brookline.
The latter buys for investment. The sales price was in the vicinity of $5000.

Agreements have been entered into whereby Grace L. Kinley conveys her beautiful estate at 52 Newtonville avenue, in the Mt. Ida section of Newton, to Louis E. Walters of Boston. There is a large mansion of 15 rooms, a three-car garage, and 54,000 square feet of land bounded by Newtonville avenue and Bennington street. Mr. Walters buys for a home. Sullivan & Mc-Carthy, Newton Centre, negotiated the sale.

The Ritchie Estate development for small single houses at 110 Prospect street, West Newton Hill, is receiving many inquiries from private home builders. There are several West Newton people who are negotiating for lots of land at this desirable location. Sullivan & McCarthy of Newton Centre are representing the owner and have recently constructed a beautiful new street to be known as Westview terrace.

Adventurers Lured to Their Fate in Mexico

Sonora, Mexico, was the objective of a number of filibustering expeditions prior to William Walker's famous invasion of Nicaragua. In fact, Walker was on his way to Sonora
when stopped in Lower California.
The failure of many bold adventurers to pick up bushel baskets of gold in California in the days of 1849 sent them rampaging in every direction,
and Sonora presented a special lure
because it was an old settled region,
and marvelous tales were told of its mineral wealth.

Two Frenchmen of noble birth who were stranded in California successfully endeavored to carve out an empire from this supposed El Dorado,
and both lost their lives in the venture.

First came Marquis Charles de Pin-dry of Poitou, who set forth with 200 followers and was murdered in his sleep at Cocospera. Next came Count Gaston Raoul de Rousset-Bourbon of Provence, who was executed by Mexican soldiery August 12, 1853.

It was a pity that De Rousset was cut off before he brought his scheme of empire to fruition. He was a fascinating type of the soldiers of fortune, but he had a fatal weakness—he loved all beautiful and romantic women. The last one to receive his gallant devotion was a French girl overwhelmed Mexican force surrounding his little army of 240 Americans.
After a valiant resistance the Americans were defeated and De Rousset captured.

"Allons, mes braves," he said to the firing squad in a clear, cheerful voice.
"Do your duty! Fire true—aim at the heart!"

A volley cracked. Count de Rousset-Bourbon fell dead. —Adventure Magazine.

Weasel Destroys Field Mice, but Birds' Enemy

"Now, as a field-mouse destroyer
we have come to the king of them all.
I have found as high as 27 adult field
mice stored in a weasel's winter home.
Yet of all the four-legged enemies of our birds we have, I know of none to compare with the weasel," says Jack Miner in his book, "Jack Miner and the Birds," published by the Ryerson Press.

"If I were to ask the experienced hunters of America if they know the weasel all would be disgusted, because the weasel is so common throughout this country. I was once in that class myself; I thought I knew
all there was to be known about them.
I had shot them out of the tops of trees and dug them out of the ground;
I had called in the woods and called them so they would come up and smell of the ends of my fingers; I had seen dozens of the little rascals in northern Ontario when I had been hunting moose, and had sat down and called them across the creek to me."

Knowledge and Enjoyment

What we love to do, that we do well.
To know is not all; it is only half.
To love is the other half. Wordsworth's poet was contented if he might enjoy
the things which others understand.
This is generally the attitude of the young and of the poetic nature. The man of science, on the other hand, is contented if he may understand the things that others enjoy; that is his enjoyment. Contemplation and absorption for the one; investigation and classification for the other. We probably all have, in varying degrees, one or other of these ways of enjoying Nature; either the sympathetic and emotional enjoyment of her which the young and the poetic temperament have, or the enjoyment
through our knowing faculties afforded by natural science, or it may be,
the two combined, as they certainly were in such a man as Tyndall.— John Burroughs.

An Honorable Form

The essay is a literary creature to the making of which go mood and form;
and the former would seem by far the paramount thing. Great and special gifts does it demand. 'Tis an Ariel
among literary kinds, shy, airy, tricky,
elusive, vanishing in the garish light that beats down upon the arena where the big prizes of fiction are competed for amidst noise, confusion, and eclat.
But even in its own slight, winsome
way does it compel attention, and gain hearts for its very own. 'Tis an aristocrat of letters; nowhere is it so hard to hide obvious antecedents. Many try but few triumph in it. Therefore,
when a real essayist arrives, let him
be received with due acclaim and thanks special, since through him is handed on so ancient and honorable a form.—Richard Burton, in "Forces in Fiction."

Academies

As Zola did not belong to the French academy, so Theodore Dre-ser, the author of "Sister Carrie,"
does not belong to the American Academy of Arts and Letters.

"Whistler," Mr. Dreiser said at an Algonquin luncheon—"our great Whistler did not belong to the Royal academy, either."

"An American admirer of Whistler's
once wrote him a letter in the Royal academy's care. The letter had a hard time to find Whistler, but it did find him at last. On the envelope the Royal academy people had maliciously written:

"Not known at the Royal academy."

"Whistler sent the envelope to the Times with the comment:

"Behold my certificate of merit!"

SHOULD AMERICANS STUDY FOREIGN LANGUAGES

A three-year investigation to determine the reasons why Americans should study foreign languages has been launched under the auspices of the American Council on Education, under the name of "The Modern Foreign Language Study." The inquiry, which has its headquarters in New York, is under the supervision and control of twenty foreign language teachers in colleges and secondary schools
located throughout the country.

The Chairman of the Study, Professor Robert Herndon Fife, of Columbia University, makes the following statement:

"Based on a preliminary canvass,
the following are some of the educational benefits claimed for foreign language study:

The ability to read the foreign language with ease and enjoyment.

The ability to communicate in speech
and in writing with foreigners.

Increased ability to read, write and speak English.

A better realization of the importance of correct speech habits.

Increased knowledge of the history
and institutions of the foreign country,
an a better understanding of their contribution to modern civilization.

Increased ability to understand ideals and standards of foreign peoples
and Americans of foreign birth.

Development of literary and artistic appreciation.

Development of a better realization of the relation of the individual to society.

All of these and some others are to be tested, to determine whether American students are now obtaining these results. If not, it is proposed to discover ways in which they can be attained."

GIFTS FOR THE GRADUATE

Few gifts have greater permanency or bear a more personal touch than a well-chosen book. Probably no gift offers greater possibilities for variety of choice than a book, since one may read for information, or inspiration,
or simply for amusement and relaxation.

If you know intimately the life ambition of the boy or girl for whom the gift is planned, you may choose something like "Opportunities in Chemistry," by Hendrick—LO-138 o, or "The Training of a Secretary," by Church—HKC-C47, or "Careers for Women," by Filene—MEO-9F47, or "How to Choose the Right Profession," by Whittier—HEO-M55.

You may prefer a biography like Booker Washington's "Up from Slavery," E W876-W, or Stacey's
"Queen Victoria," F4566-S89, or a good travel book like Roosevelt's
"African Game Trails," VDB751-R6 or Powell's "By Camel and Car to the Peacock Throne," G60-P87b.
And there is always the flavor of friendship in the gift of an entertaining story that will bear re-reading.—
one of the delightful old standbys like Thackeray's "Pendennis" or Stevenson's "David Balfour," or one of the newer worth-while favorites like London's "White Fang," or Gilbert Parker's "Right of Way," or Stanley's
"Master of The Oaks."

The list of possibilities is almost unlimited. If you desire further suggestions, the Newton Free Library would be glad to assist. Here also you have opportunity to refresh your memory as to just the type of book
you may wish to choose.

Y. M. C. A. BASEBALL

On the Newton Y. M. C. A. field last Saturday the local team added another victory to their record when they turned back Somerville 11 to 3. Wood pitching for Newton turned in a fine game and was well supported particularly at the times when the visitors were in danger of scoring. Only in the 6th inning did the game take on a serious aspect when Somerville scored three runs bringing their total to six and giving them a three run lead over Newton. The "Y" came back strong,
however, in the 7th inning when Alan Shaw made a timely hit, his only one
during the game, with the bases loaded. This started a rally which continued until six runs had crossed the plate giving Newton a three run lead.
One more run in the eighth brought their total to 11 while the visitors scored one each in the 8th and 9th making the final score 11 to 3. A return game will be played in the near future.

On Saturday, June 27th, the Newton
"Y" will play Fleishman Yeast on the Newton field. The game will start at three P. M. sharp.

Auvergne Hills Traced to Volcanic Upheavals

Although the hills of Auvergne in France do not rise to the altitude of the Alps or the Pyrenees, they have peculiar characteristics of their own.
They were born and molded amid great volcanic upheavals, the ice king may govern the glaciers, but here the fire king has reigned, says the Springfield Republican.

The Monts-Dore are one long chain of linked volcanoes, now as dead as the mountains in the moon. Nearly sixty gaping craters may still be counted. Even the Monts Dore and the Cantal hills, whose cone-shaped summits, the highest in Auvergne,
stand out so impressively in the distance, are but the time-worn ruins of huge volcanoes.

All the country round about bears lasting traces of its dramatic past;
beds of lava hidden by the fresh,
green turf; dark pillars, like the famous "Orgues de Bort"; giants' cuseways; odd dikes that might be dusky Druid stones; "sucs" and "puys" that might be the pustules of a fever-stricken earth—such are the features which give this central region a strange individuality that has been further intensified by the hand of man.

Twelfth Night Customs Kept Up in England

Many strange and curious rites and customs have long been connected with the observance of Twelfth night.
Twelfth night is the evening before Epiphany, the 6th of January, also called Twelfthtide and Old Christmas day.

In England the principal rite of the evening is the cutting of the "bean cake"—a cake in which a bean is cooked, the finder of which is made
the king of the night and the following day.

It was in commemoration of this custom that Robert Baddely, an English comedian of the Eighteenth century, who was long a favorite at the Drury Lane theater, made one of the strangest bequests on record.
Baddely died in 1794, and in his will he bequeathed his cottage to a theatrical fund, requesting that a sum of three pounds be annually expended on a cake, to be cut on Twelfth night,
in the Green room of the Drury Lane theater, and divided among the actors and actresses.

Great Naval Station

Malta has an area of 118 square miles and a population of 224,680. This includes the neighboring islands of Gozo and Comino. Malta was an-nexed to Great Britain, with the free will of the Maltese, in 1814 by the treaty of Paris. It has an elected legislature, but there are certain reserved matters, such as war, treaties, foreign trade, etc., which are dealt with by the governor and executive council.
Exports include potatoes and other vegetables, oranges, cumins seed, goats
and sheep, cotton goods and stone.
The distance of Malta from New York is about 4,300 miles. This group of islands is situated in the Mediterranean sea, 60 miles from Sicily, 140
miles from the European mainland and 180 miles from Africa. It has a magnificent natural harbor at Valetta
and an ideal situation as a coaling station and center of Mediterranean commerce. It is England's premier naval station in that sea.

River "Rafts" Nuisances

One of the most remarkable of the Mississippi rafts began forming in the Atchafalaya, a lower arm of the river,
in 1778. By 1816 it had become 10 miles long, more than 600 feet in width, about eight feet deep, and had become solid enough to support a growth of trees, some of which were 60 feet in height. Finally the state of Louisiana had to remove the obstruction at great expense, the work occupying four years.

The United States government has since that time removed a raft which blocked the channel of the Red river for 45 miles.

Demonstration Sought

A tramp called at the house of a blunt farmer and asked for food and old clothes.

"You appear to be a stout, hearty-looking man," said the farmer; "what do you do for a living?"

"Why, not much," replied the fellow, "except travel about from one place to another."

"Travel about, ha!" rejoined the farmer; "can you travel pretty well?"

"Oh, yes," returned the beggar, "I'm pretty good at that."

"Well, then," said the farmer, "let's see you travel."

Fortified

One Sunday morning a southern pastor noticed a new attendant at the services.

When the meeting was over the preacher made it his business to speak to the newcomer.

"Rastus," he said, "this is the first time I have seen you at church for a long time. I'm mighty glad to see you here."

"I had to come," replied Rastus, "I needs strengthenin'." I've got a job whitewashin' a chicken coop and buildin' a fence around a watermelon patch."

The Only Way

"I was only acting the part of peacemaker."

Magistrate—But you knocked the man senseless!

Prisoner—I did. There was no other way to get peace.

the size of Victory Field and set back from the street. Not a nickel had been spent on this property in the last six years. Mr. Rae also called the attention of the board to the fact that with automobiles crowding the street, and the outfields playing on the sidewalk, might, in case of an accident, cost the city a great deal more than the sum of $10,000 which is the price of the field. Not only was there a possible physical danger but there was the added danger of the lowering of the moral tone of the community. In closing, Mr. Rae said that he was present by vote of the church and not in his personal account.

Mr. A. J. Livingstone, Mr. W. E. Lowry, Rev. J. W. Bryant, Mr. C. A. Rae, and Miss Beatrice Forknall also spoke in opposition and urged that the money be expended on the development of Allison Park.

Mr. Murphy, in rebuttal, stated that he felt that the character of the members of the Playground Commission was sufficient guarantee against Sunday baseball and the lowering of the moral tone of the community.

Questions by the aldermen brought out the fact that it would cost considerably more than $10,000 to put Allison Park in shape.

The matter was referred to the committee on Finance.

The buildings department was granted an appropriation of $4,200 to alter police headquarters. For several years accommodations have been inadequate and it is now planned to provide offices for Captain Mullen, Mrs. Wellman, the probation officer, enlarged quarters for the inspectors and consulting rooms for attorneys. The court room will also be painted and put in good condition.

The city ordinance was changed to allow the employment of one additional police sergeant, one patrolman, and one temporary patrolman. Appropriations were also made to cover the salaries of these officers. In explanation of the situation Alderman G. W. Pratt, chairman of the Finance committee, stated that injuries to one of the regular sergeants and one of the patrolmen had reduced the number of available men on the force and it is not certain when the injured men will be able to return to duty.

Another section of the city ordinance was amended so that all unowned land, such as railroad land, schoolhouse lots, parks, playgrounds, cemeteries, etc., cannot be used, if temporarily or permanently abandoned, for any other purpose until after the board has zoned such property.

The traffic committee reported that Jackson street should be made a one-way street, going west, between Cypress street and Daniels road. The use of Jackson street by trucks to avoid the steep hill on Boylston street caused the residents of that vicinity to request action on the matter. An affirmative vote was taken.

The board disapproved the request for a billboard of 603 Washington street, Newtonville.

Six hearings were held on improvements of various brooks in the city. Charles E. Lord appeared upon his petition to complete the covering of the brook on his land between Cabot Park and Langdon street, Newton. Half of this brook was covered by him thirty odd years ago and as he now wished to develop the remainder of his property there he asked the city to complete the work. No one appeared upon the petition of Mary B. Longyear and others for the covering of Paul Brook in Newton Centre. Mr. Mark Noble representing his son, spoke at length on the improvement of Hammond brook on land near Homer street, Newton Centre, plans for which had been drawn some years ago but the work never done. Mr. Noble stated that his son would make the improvement anyway at his own expense but that he would like to have the city pay half under the betterment assessment. Mr. Noble was willing, however, that the city should wait until they had received sufficient in new taxes brought about by the increased value of the land in question before reimbursing him. Fred Holland Chamberlain, who is developing the Beck estate and the Baptist Church property on Homer street, Newton Centre, asked the city to build three bridges on new streets he intended to construct there and he would pay the expense of relocating the brook. No one appeared upon the petition of Henry J. O'Meara for relocating and covering Edmonds Brooks, Newton, and diverting the culvert at Crosby road, Newton Centre. Subsequently all of these petitions were given leave to withdraw.

The Edison Light Company was granted several locations for poles. One of the hearings held, of which considerable discussion was made by residents of Summer street, Newton Centre, was for 2 poles on this street. Mr. Arthur W. Blakemore, representing a number of residents of that street, among them Senator Abbott B. Rice, said that his clients had always been opposed to poles on that street, that they were satisfied with the present street lights and that they agreed to allow Mr. Chamberlain to get service for lights in his house through their back yards at no expense to him. Mr. Blakemore stated that the petition was primarily to permit the wiring of Mr. Chamberlain's house for lights. Other residents spoke in opposition and the suggestion was made that underground conduits would be acceptable. The city clerk read several letters of protest.

Several hearings were held upon modification of district boundary lines changing certain properties from one zone to another. Dr. Allen R. Barrow, representing Mrs. Barrow, of Highland avenue, Newtonville, met with considerable sympathy and considerable opposition when he favored the petition in her name for a change from general residence to, business district of the property at 9 Highland avenue. Dr. Barrow stated that they had bought this property five years ago and that two years ago a block of stores was erected on Walnut street so that the entire side of his house viewed the rear of these stores, which he claimed were kept in anything but a sanitary condition. He was planning to sell his property and move to Newton Centre. Mr. J. C. Irwin, Franklin Bancroft, Carl G. M. Miller, and R. H. White strongly opposed the petition while offering sympathy to the Barrows, on the grounds of the injuries which would be done to their properties.

Mr. John W. Byers, Mrs. Pierce, Mr. Thomas C. Clay and others opposed the petition of Howard C. Jones to place the property on Washington terrace, Newtonville, into business territory. Mr. Howard C. Jones said that his son owned the property and thought that it was in the business zone when he purchased it as business was being carried on in the immediate vicinity.

Joseph Murray spoke on his petition for changing land on Larkin road, West Newton from the general residence to the manufacturing district. He said that the land was bog land and was not fit for any other use. Charles Dolan and Mr. A. B. Joy opposed the petition on the grounds of the increased noise of machines.

Mr. Fred M. Blanchard, representing about 99 per cent of the residents of Austin street, Newtonville, spoke in favor of the petition to change property on Austin and Mt. Vernon streets to the single residence zone and said that in making the map the paint must have run out. Mrs. William H. Lamond and Mr. H. D. Ames also spoke in favor. Alderman Ball asked for a show of hands of those in favor but Mr. Blanchard explained that he had asked them to stay away so as not to overcrowd the inadequate accommodations and a count was not taken. A letter of protest was read by the city clerk.

Considerable discussion was made on the petition of residents of Randlett park and Adella avenue to change property there to the single zone. Mr. William V. Hayden, representing several of the real estate owners in that vicinity made an eloquent plea to permit the region to remain in the private residence zone.

The petition of Judge Alonzo R. Weed et al for a change of properties at the corner of Park and Church street, Newton, to the single residence zone was represented by Arthur W. Blakemore who said that there was no opposition as far as could be learned.

No opposition was raised to the petition of Mrs. Corabelle G. Francis, who appeared for herself, to change her property at 49 Pembroke street from the single residence zone to the private residence. Mrs. Francis stated that the houses on each side of hers were two family houses and that she desired to be placed in the same zone.

No one appeared at hearings given to several other petitioners for change of zones. These and the preceding petitions were referred to the committee on claims and rules.

Judge Thomas Weston, representing the petition of Sarah I. Souther for a permit for a filling station at 2103-2105 Commonwealth avenue, Auburn, said that the sidewalk pump at this location was to be removed and placed on his client's property. No building was to be erected. Mr. Weston stated that among the signers were the John D. Rockefeller family and inasmuch as Gulf gasoline was to be sold there it was worthy of note. The petition was opposed by Ex-alderman Harry B. Ross, Mr. F. G. Bates, representing Mr. E. C. Hilliard and Mr. John P. Gallagher, representing Mrs. Katherine Forbes who owned adjoining property.

Judge W. Lloyd Allen, representing the petition of W. J. Gibson for a public garage at 1171 Washington street, West Newton, said that the garage was to be a one-story building of fireproof construction with a show-room. The gasoline pump was to be outside of the building but not on the sidewalk so that it would be a "drive-in" station. The cost would be about $40,000 which would increase the value of the property to that amount instead of the present valuation of $6,500. Mr. Allen also stated that the chief of police saw no objection to it. Considerable opposition to the project was made by Mrs. F. L. Talbot and a representative of the Clark Motor Company on Kempton place.

All these petitions were referred to the committee on Franchises and Licenses.

Fifty-five hearings were held on petitions for private garages for not more than two cars. Subsequently fifty-two of these and about twenty others for which hearings were held at a previous meeting were granted by the board.

The committee on Franchises and Licenses reported favorably upon the petition of the City of Newton to erect a 3-car garage in the rear of the library for the use of the library trucks. This petition was opposed at a public hearing several weeks ago by Mrs. Josephine Gleason and her son of Vernon street. Alderman Fitts in discussing the question stated that apart from the merits of the legal aspects of the case there was considerable sentiment involved. It was doubtful, he claimed, that if a similar case arose in which a petitioner asked for a permit for a garage for the storage of trucks in a residential district that the board would grant the permit. The granting of this particular permit would, however, save the city money and would accommodate the Library officials by allowing the trucks to remain loaded over night if necessary. On the other hand, Mr. Fitts stated that the city would be offending a considerable number of residents in the vicinity. Conferences had been held between the trustees of the Library, Mrs. Gleason, and her friends and no agreement could be reached.

"One of the most delicate questions we have been confronted with and if the board goes ahead in the face of the sentiment of opposition I doubt if it will readily disappear," Alderman Fitts said. Alderman Hinckley then asked, if there was no objection, that the matter be referred back to the committee for further consideration, as he felt that if the permit was granted it should have the unanimous vote of the board. Alderman Lloyd, chairman of the committee, said that there was no objection to this and that at the present time the committee itself was not unanimously in favor of granting the permit.

The report of the Public Works committee that no action was necessary on the petition of the Newtonville Women's Club for more street lights was accepted by the board. Leave to withdraw was given the petitioners for a sidewalk on Turner street, for which a heated hearing was held at the last meeting at the report of the same committee.

Lillian I. Cate was granted a petition for a public garage for 65 cars at 965 Watertown street, West Newton. Restrictions were imposed so that the building would not come within thirty feet of the corner of Davis court and a low wall is to be erected so that automobiles cannot cut across the corner. These restrictions were acceptable to the petitioners, who were represented by Judge Weston at the hearing some weeks ago, and to Mr. M. J. Enegess, the court pro-

The zoning ordinance was amended to allow the Newton Hospital to use a portable building now on their property for care of patients. It was voted that to allow such use the unanimous approval of the board of appeal must be first obtained.

The following appropriations were made: Street Dept., New Streets: Elgin street, Ward 6, Betterment Law, $6,083; Ransom road, Ward 6, Betterment Law, $929; Emerson street, Ward 1, sidewalk, Betterment Law, $6,108; Wedgewood street, Ward 3, $4,393; Huntington road, Chamberlain road, Farlow road, Ward 7, $6,415; Hilltop, Princeton and Holland streets, Ward 1, $6,455; Webster Park, Ward 3, $2,296; Pond street, Ward 1, $972; Drain, Prospect street, Ward 3, $584.

CROWD ON RIVER

The ideal weather Sunday brought out a record crowd of canoeists on the Charles River at Riverside and Norumbega. Despite the crowd the river was free from accidents and tip-overs. A large force of Metropolitan District police patrolled the canoeing stretch from Concord street bridge to Waltham, but not a single tip-over was reported during the day. This is the second time this year that the river has been crowded and without accidents.

EDITORIAL

We returned from several months' absence from the city to find a greatly increased budget covering city expenses—a welcome change in the zoning ordinance, practically returning to the recommendation of the Zoning Committee of two years ago—the adoption of a drastic board of survey act, and an unprecedented building boom in both residences and public garages.

In appointing Miss Fitzgerald as "acting" Overseer of the Poor, after the aldermen had refused to confirm her regular appointment to that office, Mayor Childs takes the position that the confirmatory power of the aldermen is a negligible quantity and that he intends to have his own way regardless of the statutes and laws of the Commonwealth.

It is quite a reflection on the proper administration of justice when a reputable business man like Mr. John T. Burns is fined for improper out-door advertising, while the big billboard companies flaunt their signs with apparent impunity.

POLICE COURT

John T. Burns, real estate dealer of Newton, was in Court Wednesday morning on the charge of violating two provisions of the State law on out-door advertising. The State Department of Public Works was the complainant in what was considered a test case.

Mr. Burns was charged with erecting a sign reading "Sold by John T. Burns" on a house which had been sold through his office. According to the law the erection of this sign is forbidden after the property leaves his hands. He was found guilty and the case was filed.

He was also charged with placing an auctioneer's sign on a house at the corner of a street advertising an auction at a house farther down the street. According to the law the auction sign could be placed only on the house where the sale took place. He was found guilty and this case was filed.

DEDICATION OF MOTHERS' REST

good friend, Frank A. Schirmer of Newton Centre, by a generous gift of $5,000, made it possible to secure it.

Here for twenty years have come the tired mothers and their little children from the city's heated streets and crowded homes to enjoy the open air, the country life, and the skilled nursing, good food, and find rest and refreshment, health and strength to take up again, after two weeks' vacation, the burdens of life.

The buildings already old, were of necessity allowed to fall out of repair during the war time, and when a year ago the repairs seemed imperative, a careful estimate showed that at least ten thousand dollars must be spent, and that even then the result would be but temporary. A good neighbor, Hon. Wm. H. Carter, came forward with a generous offer to purchase and allow the year's tenancy.

A committee after an extended search finally by the good offices of Mr. Carter and Mr. Wm. M. Mick, discovered the property off Oak Hill street, near Brookline street, in the Oak Hill district and the Rest comes back to the city of its birth, a lustrous grown-up, rather than the weakling which migrated a score of years ago. The land consists of eleven acres, with beautiful pine and hardwood groves, an open meadow for the house site, and a fine prospect across the fields to the distant Blue Hills.

Plans were secured, the various officials concerned cooperated cordially and the contractor, Robert A. Vachon, and his co-workers, have completed the present building.

Mr. and Mrs. Schirmer again befriended the Rest and gave a second $5,000, conditioned upon a like sum being given by the friends of the Association.

The response was hearty and spontaneous. A simple notice of the opportunity brought in gifts large and small amounting to over $7,500.

Thanks to these kind friends the building is dedicated today free from debt. She then introduced Mrs. Ginn, soprano soloist of the First Church, who sang with much feeling, "Blessed Are the Pure in Heart."

Rev. Dr. Edward T. Sullivan, rector of Trinity Church, introduced as a constant friend of the Rest, then spoke. He emphasized the growth of the Man from the Child, the fact that so many men eminent in later life began in humble places and that God calls men without respect of persons—and no one can know what greatness in future years may have been or will be fostered and helped by the Mothers' Rest. The most important events, he said, are not recorded among the earthquakes and tempests, but in the birth column, for God moves the world through the hearts of men. He also called attention to the unfortunate effects of malnutrition in the life of a growing child, effects which the Mothers' Rest endeavors to overcome. Mrs. Ginn then sang Kipling's "Mother O'Mine."

The Prayer of Dedication was by Rev. Dr. E. M. Noyes of the First Church, Newton Centre, and was tender, appropriate and helpful. He closed with the Benediction.

Mrs. Kendall then invited the guests to inspect the building and in passing through the Dining Room to partake of the refreshments provided there.

The building was designed by Kendall, Taylor & Co. and is in the shape of a T, the long front facing southwest. The central entrance opens from an open porch to the Living Room, with a large stone fireplace, and on either side a large screened in porch for children and adults.

In the rear of the Living Room is the Dining Room with high ceiling, windows on each side, and back of this an ample Kitchen with store room, pantry and laundry. A rear corridor connects. Four maids' rooms with a bath room. To the right of the Living Room opens a room for the Nurses' Diet and Laboratory, with electric heat and stove, Nurses' Bedroom with toilet, and adjoining the general toilet for this wing.

Closing Selection of a Series of Jazz Music

Mrs. Chas. F. Dow acted as White Mamma to Mr. Charles W. Dow and played the accompaniment to his songs on the piano in a very able manner. The members of the gang all did themselves great credit, and it was hard to choose the best ducky as all did so well, and as Black Joe said, "All the coons look alike." Mr. Chas. F. Dow proved himself an able director having selected the gang and conducted the rehearsals. At one time he was president of a dramatic club in Haverhill and in 1904 wrote and cast a Mock Trial in Odd Fellows' Hall, West Newton, for Tennyson Rebekah Lodge. In 1905 he wrote and cast a Mock Trial for Waban Lodge, Newtonville, and in 1907 wrote and staged Bingville District School for Waban Lodge. Mr. Dow is now in his 67th year and still enjoys active life, and this last entertainment was well done. At the close of the performance bouquets were presented to each of the performers and a rousing cheer given.

Mrs. Fred E. Perkins was chairman of the evening and there was a large attendance, all voting it a success in every way. Guests were present from Brookline, Boston, Needham, Malden, Waltham, Watertown, and the Newtons.

GRADUATION

Among the large number who completed their course at the Bryant & Stratton School, Boston, the past year, and who received their diplomas at the graduation exercises in Jordan Hall, Boston, on June 17th, we note the names of Miss Florence Daly of 156 Pearl street, Mr. P. Edward Eden of Playstead road, Miss Kathryn Powers of 10 Pond St., Newton, Miss Mildred L. Durkin of 255 Highland street, West Newton, Miss Marjorie P. Timmons of 13 Hunting street, Newton Lower Falls.

DEATH OF MRS. HARRINGTON

Mrs. Nina K. Harrington, widow of the late Arba F. Harrington, died suddenly at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. William B. Jenkins of Cleveland, Ohio, on June 12th.

Mrs. Harrington came to Newtonville in 1873 and was a resident here until shortly after Mr. Harrington's death in 1912. Mrs. Harrington was for many years a member of the Newtonville Methodist Church, The Home Circle, and the Newtonville Woman's Guild.

William O. Harrington of Court street and Nellie Harrington Jenkins survive her.

Services were held in Cleveland, Ohio, and a committal service was held at the Newton Cemetery.

Only Diamond Exceeds the Sapphire in Value

There is no such stone as a sapphire. There is a distinct stone, a sapphire, a pure gem, being excellent in value by no precious stone except the diamond. The sapphire is regarded as a variety of corundum, highly transparent and brilliant. It is sometimes colorless, or nearly so. It more frequently, however, exhibits color, generally a bright red (i. e., the ruby) or a beautiful blue—the latter being that commonly called sapphire. Purplish or greenish color indicates a flaw, and usual defects are clouds, milk spots, flakes or stripes. A sapphire largely used among jewelers is called a "reconstructed sapphire," artificially made of hard glass (crystal) in France and Germany, and is of no value except for the work entailed in cutting and mounting in jewelry. The true sapphire is found crystallized, usually in six-sided prisms, terminated by six-sided pyramids. It is sometimes found imbedded in gneiss, but most frequently occurs in alluvial soils. It occurs in Bohemia and Saxony, but the finest are found in Ceylon, Kashmir and Burma also produce the specimens, and sapphires are found in Australia and parts of the United States. The value depends on quality more than on size and does not decrease with the size of the gem.

Oriental Carpet Makers Chant While They Work

The Oriental cannot work in concert unless he chants in concert too. And he has a wonderful ear for his own uproar. Here, for instance, on the floor were two men bending over the same pattern-carpet. One was dictating to a gang on one side, the other on the other; they were at different places, and as each bawled out a direction to his men the others were reveling in their "So let it be done." Yet there was not a mistake in either, though the carpets were only just beginning; each gang must have caught every word. At the big 57-foot carpet, of course, the directions are hardly needed; it has been a-making for many months, until the leader reels off the colors and numbers by heart, and the dozen workers, each opposite his strip of pattern, put in the stitches like automata.

All the convict carpet workers are picked men; it is not every malefactor that has the brain to take in the directions, the eye to distinguish the colors, or the hand to put them in. Such as have prize the work, for it is the only task in the central jail at which you are allowed to make a noise.—Bagdad Exchange.

Gentlemen

Perhaps these are rarer personages than some of us think for. Which of us can point out many such in this circle—men whose aims are generous, whose truth is constant, and not only constant in its kind but elevated in its degree; whose want of meanness makes them simple; who can look the world honestly in the face with an equal manly sympathy for the great and the small? We all know a hundred whose coats are very well made, and a score who have excellent manners, and one or two happy beings who are in what they call the inner circles, and have shot into the very center and bull's-eye of the fashion; but of gentlemen how many? Let us take a little scrap of paper and each make out his list.—Thackeray.

Bird's-Eye Maple

Bird's-eye maple is a popular name for hard, rock or sugar maple. It is called bird's-eye maple because frequently the grain of the wood exhibits a spotted appearance, supposedly resembling birds' eyes. Such wood is widely used for veneer and finishing purposes. Sometimes, instead of being spotted, the grain of the wood appears wavy. Both of these varieties of wood found in the rock maple are accidental forms in the arrangement of the wood fiber. Birds have nothing to do with it.—Pathfinder Magazine.

Ingratitudes!

On an Irish golf course there was a shortage of caddies. A farm laborer who had never seen golf played was therefore pressed into service.

After two rounds the player for whom he had caddied presented him with payment far beyond a laborer's daily wage.

The improvised caddie was naturally anxious for a further engagement. So, as he handed over the clubs, he asked politely, "Might your honor be diggin' here again about the same time tomorrow?"

The Reverse English

Lotta—Charlotte Crabtree—who died worth $4,000,000—was asked one day by a Boston reporter why she had never married.

The actress's eyes twinkled as she answered:

"I've always kept in mind, young man, the old Greek philosopher's dictum—of course I put the reverse English on it—'He who takes a wife takes care, but he who takes care doesn't take a wife.'"

Novel Cure

A man leaning over the parapet of a bridge looked so glum that a kindly pedestrian stopped to make sure the gloomy one was not contemplating suicide.

"No, it's this way," explained the latter. "I like to come here once in a while to rest my face. I get tired of smiling all day at the store and I don't think I ought to be grumpy at home."

SAVE THE CONSTITUTION

Scarcely a person who visits the Boston Navy Yard, whether in a sight-seeing bus, in his own auto, or otherwise, that doesn't request to see the Constitution, one of the "four great frigates of the American Navy in the first fifty years of our national existence," built in 1797; the others being the Constellation, President, and United States. Of these the Constitution and Constellation remain, the former at Boston, and the latter at Baltimore. Compare the Constitution, of 2200 tons displacement, with the Utah, of 21,325 tons, also at the Boston Navy Yard, and one can know that greatness has grown in the United States, and yet no other vessel of the American Navy has done more to contribute to the glory of the United States than has the Constitution.

The Constitution is not only a historical vessel, but she is not in so bad a condition that one can be justified in demanding to "hear her tattered ensign down," as Oliver Wendell Holmes in his poem "Old Ironsides" declared should not be done, and which he was inspired to write when a Government Board decided, in 1830, on condemnation, and recommended she be made junk of. Public sentiment was so bitter with the recommendation that she was rebuilt at the Boston Navy Yard in 1833-4. The vessel was again restored to newness at the Philadelphia Navy Yard in 1871 through the patriotic earnestness of the common people. Then when, in 1905, it was recommended that she be sunk by target practice of the Atlantic Fleet there was such a storm of protest by taxpayers that Congress was induced to appropriate $100,000 to put her in a preservable condition, and the work was done at the Boston Navy Yard.

The present condition of this famous vessel needs considerable to be done to keep her from sinking. No other, or falling apart. Congress recently enacted that the fine old warrior should be spared but appropriated no money for the necessary work, and so the Secretary of the Navy, a graduate of the Naval Academy, has concluded to have a "Save the Constitution Fund," obtained by popular contribution, especially suggesting that the school children should become interested and each to give a penny, or more should they so wish. It is believed that more than the amount of $500,000 can thus be raised on patriotic and educational lines, in which case there will be no need to "hear her tattered ensign down," but that she can be retained as a memorial to American Independence. The Commandant of the Boston Navy Yard has been directed to receive and credit all the pennies given to the fund.

The history of the Constitution is a glorious one, but space cannot be given here to tell it all. In the War of 1812, after capturing the British frigate Guerriere the English press very moderately stated that "the capture of our first frigate is taken with philosophical surprise." But after several other of their first-line frigates had been surrendered to the Constitution, in battles, the sentiment of the British public was, "Is it not sickening?" No other ship of the American Navy of early times did such great heroic service, not only in the wars, but in the East Indies in 1844, and later in other special cruises, carrying supplies to famine sufferers, and exhibits to Great Britain, which was gratefully recognized.

THE PEOPLE WILL SAVE THE CONSTITUTION.

Isn't One Roofing Bill Enough?

Don't buy a roof that's going to keep on costing you money for painting and repairs. Put down a roof that will last—a roof of sound economy.

Barrett Shingles give this kind of roof. They never need painting or staining. Their handsome surface of natural slate in soft red, moss green or blue-black doesn't fade. They will not rot or rust. Their first cost is moderate and that's all there is—there isn't any more!

Barrett ROOFINGS

Long experience with roofings convinces us that Barrett Shingles are the most satisfactory for anything like their moderate cost. In addition they're fire-safe—sure protection against flying sparks and embers. Come in and see these sturdy roofings.

THE BEAUTIFUL VALLEY OF THE CHARLES

I was born and reared in the Country and early learned to love the fields, the streams, the woods and the little wild creatures who inhabit them. When I went to the city I learned to love that also its ambitions, its rivalries, its strenuous life. But I never lost my love of the country; and many years ago, away up on Charles river, half way to its source, I built a little one room cabin, with a fire-place at one end and sleeping bunks at the other, and there I would go, for a day, or a week end, or for several days, often with friends with me, seeking that rest and recreation, that communion with God's out of doors, which rests the body, ministers to the soul. If it was in the early spring I would paddle my canoe out over those beautiful broad meadows of Medfield, converted into a great lake by the annual spring flood; with the wild ducks flying overhead and the keen March wind whistling across the blue water, I would give my canoe to the current where the stream is narrower and be swept along between the brown hillsides where Nature still slept, down through "Rock Narrows" where the river rushes between the great rocks and the hemlocks cling to the steep hillsides. The dark recesses of that hemlock gorge seem like "the secret places of Most High," where His little wild creatures dwell, abiding under the shadow of the Almighty. A few weeks later and the river is down in its bed. Its banks green with the up-springing grass which later, in its luxuriant growth, will stand nearly as high as a man's head, while masses of wild flowers of the meadow look out upon the water and preach eloquent sermons to every passer by. The wild ducks have gone but the song birds have come, and are filling the air with their joyous carols. "That drunken fellow," the bobolink, is very much in evidence; the only bird of our Northern clime, I believe, who sings his complete song while on the wing; Lowell called him "A brook of laughter running through the air." The catbird and the thrush vie with each other in giving their song recitals from the tree tops. The phoebe builds her nest under the eaves of the cabin. The red wing blackbird utters his clarion note of joy as he alights upon the bush above his patient mate. The blue bird, the yellow bird, the brown bird, the red bird, all God's colors in his birds, are there, and this joy of their singing brings peace to the heart. The partridge drums from the neighboring thicket; that dull, mysterious, penetrating sound.

"Slow the strokes at first, then fast and faster. Till they pass into a murmur and are still."

And through the night God's creatures are abroad. Lying in my bunk at midnight I hear the thump, thump, of a startled rabbit, the splash of a muskrat in the nearby river; the whistle of a woodchuck, as, sensing danger, he makes for cover perhaps under the floor of the cabin. I hear the rustle of leaves just the other side of the board walls of the cabin, and I know that that scavenger, the skunk, is abroad seeking what he may devour. Someone has said that the skunk is one of man's best friends, and someone else has said, "deliver us from our friends." The owl hoots from the great pine above the camp; the whippoorwill is abroad, as usual, taking upon himself the discipline of the whole neighborhood; coming almost to the door of the cabin and waking us up with his frantic calls to come out and help him whip-poor-will up and down the valley. The whippoorwill is very much like some people, very anxious that others should be punished for their sins.

Verily, in that beautiful valley of the Charles,

"He has made me lie down in green pastures. He has led me beside still waters. He has restored my soul."

And the woodland paths have become paths of righteousness for His Names sake.

POWELL—HUNT
Miss Dorothy H. Hunt, daughter of Mr. Louis H. Hunt of Winchester street, Newton Highlands, was married on Wednesday to James Gilmore Powell of Chestnut street, Newton Upper Falls. The ceremony took place in St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Newton Highlands, Rev. Charles O. Farrar officiating.

Miss Muriel Gladys Esty of Newton Centre was the maid of honor, and Perry Powell, brother of the groom, of Needham Heights, the best man. Philip Powell and Chester Curran of Newton Upper Falls were ushers.

The bride's gown was of white tulle crepe trimmed with old Spanish lace, and her tulle veil was caught with pearls and with a coronet of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of roses and sweet peas. The maid of honor wore peach colored crepe de chine with a picture hat to match and carried a bouquet of tea roses.

A reception at the home of the bride followed the ceremony at the church. The bride's mother, the father and mother of the groom, and Mrs. W. G. S. Chamberlain, assisted the bridal couple in receiving.

After a motor trip to the White Mountains, Mr. and Mrs. Powell will make their home at 98 Winchester street, Newton Highlands.

GARDNER—BILL
Thursday afternoon Miss Margaret W. Bill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander H. Bill of Highland street, Cambridge, became the bride of Charles S. Gardner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gardner of 148 Highland avenue, Newtonville.

The wedding took place in the First Church, Cambridge, and was performed by the Rev. Raymond Calkins.

Miss Elizabeth Bill, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and Darwin Gardner, brother of the groom, best man. Only the immediate family were present.

The bride is a graduate of the Brimmer School of Boston, and the groom, of Harvard, class of 1921.

Widespread Belief in Horseshoe as Talisman

The horseshoe is one of the very oldest talismans for wooing good fortune that exists. The belief in its efficacy is held almost all over the world, and has been present since the dawn of history. You find it in Egypt and nailed to the threshold of the feld and wicker wigwams of the nomads of Turkestan.

In medieval England, especially in the southwest, horseshoes were often nailed on church doors to keep out evil spirits and witches. There used to be two huge ones on the south door of the parish church of Ashby-Foville, in Leicestershire, says the Family Herald.

There are records of a number of horseshoes having been nailed up for centuries on the gates of Oakham castle, in Rutland, which was built by Wakelin de Ferrars, son of the first earl. Every nobleman visiting it was made to forfeit a shoe of the horse on which he rode or pay a forfeit of money. Quite a number endured the inconvenience of parting with a shoe rather than pay the small sum.

Probably the oldest continuous display of a horseshoe for luck to be found in Britain is the case of a shoe nailed up at Horseshoe corner, in the city of Lancaster. The first one was cast by the horse of John of Gaunt, when he was riding through the streets nearly six hundred years ago.

The more nails in a "found" horseshoe the greater the luck.

Wilde Well Aware of Failing of Humanity

Among other amusing stories in his "Memoirs and Adventures," Sir Arthur Conan Doyle relates this characteristic story told him by Oscar Wilde:

"We were discussing the cynical maxim that the good fortune of our friends made us discontented. 'The devil,' said Wilde, 'was once crossing the Libyan desert, and he came upon a spot where a number of small fiends were tormenting a holy hermit. The sainted man easily shook off their evil suggestions. The devil watched their failure and then he stepped forward to give them a lesson. "What you do is too crude," said he. "Permit me for one moment." With that he whispered to the holy man, "Your brother has just been made bishop of Alexandria." A scowl of malignant jealousy at once clouded the serene face of the hermit. "That," said the devil to his imps, "is the sort of thing which I should recommend."

Must Not Be Separated

Faraday, the great chemist, learned a lesson in boyhood by a very childish experience. As a little lad, humbly earning his bread selling newspapers in the streets, he was waiting outside the office of an Edinburgh paper for the morning issue, and thrust his head and arms through the railings of the iron gate. He was a born metaphysician and began to speculate on which side of the railings he was. "My head and hands are on one side," he said to himself, "and my heart and body are on the other." The gate was opened hastily before he could disengage himself, and the wrench he received taught him, as he said in after life, that all true work required head and heart and hands to be on the same side.

Do Good Work in World

Those to whom a commonplace appears to be extraordinary are rare, but they are precious, since they, and they alone have built up our minds. They are the creators of human intelligence, the wide-eyed individuals who point out to the mass of mankind what has been accepted as a matter of routine. They are the poets, religious leaders, story tellers, philosophers, theologians, artists, scientists, inventors. Commonly unnoticed things excite a strange and compelling curiosity in them, and each new question sets them on a fresh quest. They see where others are blind, hear where others are deaf. They form the noble band of wonderers.—James Harvey Robinson.

Franking Privilege

The privilege of sending and receiving mail free of postage was once enjoyed by the President of the United States, vice president, heads of departments, senators and representatives, and other officials of the government during their official terms. For a time all former presidents and widows of former presidents also had this right, but by an act of 1873 the privilege was abolished. By later acts it was conferred on all officers of the government in the case of official correspondence. In 1895 members of congress were allowed this privilege in their official correspondence.

Alone in His Progress

"Tell me," said the interviewer at the bedside of the aviator who had fallen three thousand feet and hit the earth, "what was your dominating thought as you fell through all that space?"

True to his record for coolness, the aviator lit a cigarette, smiled and said: "Why, I think the thought that impressed me most was that I was about the only thing that wasn't going up."

Making His Peace

Hubert, who had been sent to bed for being naughty, could not get to sleep. At 10 o'clock he crept downstairs and said to his startled mother: "Didn't you say I was not to go to sleep until I had made my peace with my enemies, mummie?"

"Yes, dear," was the reply.

"Well, I've come down to forgive you and dad."

HAYNES—ARNOLD

Arnold of Washington street, West Newton, and Mr. George A. Haynes of West Newton. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Richard T. Loring of St. John's Church.

The gowns of the bridesmaids were of peach color chiffon with powder blue sashes, and they carried bouquets of peach and blue sweet peas with streamers of powder blue.

A reception at the home of the bride which was decorated for the occasion with pink and white roses, followed the ceremony at the church.

RICHARDSON—BURNETT

Last Saturday was the wedding day of Miss Katherine Burnett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Burnett of Waban avenue, Waban, and Robert Richardson, son of Mrs. Walter G. Richardson of Concord, N. H., and the late Commander Richardson, who was an officer in the United States Navy. Rev. Edmund Burnham of Taunton performed the ceremony.

They are now on a wedding trip, after which they will live at Hartford, Vt., where Mr. Cody is assistant manager of the Hartford Woolen Company.

The Rev. L. E. Shields of the First Presbyterian Church performed the ceremony at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Stephen H. Dodd, 27 Albion street, Lowell. Mrs. Cody is a graduate of the University of Texas and the Massachusetts school of art, and Mr. Cody studied at the Lowell textile school.

FARMER—VARLEY
Sunday, June 14, was the wedding day of Miss Helen Varley, daughter of Mrs. Helen L. Varley of Roxbury, and George Thomas Farmer of Newton. The ceremony took place at St. Joseph's Church, Roxbury, and was performed by the Rev. John Phelan.

Miss Mary Mahoney of Roxbury was bridesmaid, and Louis A. Farmer of Newton, brother of the groom, the best man.

The gown of the bride was of white tulle, and her veil was trimmed with orange blossoms and lilies of the valley. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies.

The bridesmaid wore American Beauty georgette and carried a bouquet of red roses.

LEGION CARNIVAL

The final event of the four-day carnival held by Newton Post, American Legion, at Clafin Field, Newtonville, last week, was the annual baby show on Saturday.

Mayor Edwin O. Childs headed the committee of judges, which included a group of Newton physicians.

Prizes, silver mugs, were awarded to all winners by Commander Frank L. Wilcox.

Two pairs of twins were entered in the contest. Both pairs were given prizes. They were George and Edward Anderson of 315 Auburn street, Auburndale; and Timothy and Edward McCurdy of 316 Centre street, Newton.

The prize in the one-year class was awarded to Edgar Patterson, 387 Lowell avenue, Newtonville, age 7 months. Agatha T. McCarthy, 17 months, of 9 Henshaw street, West Newton, received the prize in the 1-to-2 year class. The 3-year-old class prize went to Herbert Paquette, of Norwood avenue, Newtonville.
